Eighty Feared Lost As DC6 Plunges Into Mediterranean

French Plane Crashes Off Spanish Port

73 Passengers, Seven Crewmen Are Feared Dead

MADRID (UPI) — A French DC6 airliner with 80 persons aboard crashed in the Mediterranean early Friday off the southeast coast of Spain.

All aboard appeared to have been killed.

Freighters of three nations and the Spanish destroyer Alcala Galiano converged on the crash scene, about 45 miles from the Spanish port of Cartagena. A British Royal Air Force plane dropped flares to guide two French planes and one Spanish plane circling the wreckage.

At 11 p.m. the duty officer at the British Royal Air Force base in Gibralter, said, "The situation looks grim. We have not had a single report thus far of any survivors sighted or rescued."

At about 5 p.m., about 12 hours after the crash, a Spanish air force rescue plane had radioed that it saw "some survivors." Spanish rescue headquarters said Friday night there was "so far no official confirmation of any survivors."

Seven crewmen and 73 passengers — all of them French except for two Mauretanians—were reported aboard the plane, operated by the French firm Union Transports Aeromaritimes (UTA).

The plane left Paris at 9:10 p.m. Thursday en route to Nouakchott, capital of the African nation of Mauretania. It had touched down at Marseilles, France, and Palma, on the Balearic island of Majorca.

The craft left Palma at 4:14 a.m. Friday for the 2,000-mile hop around the northwest African shore. It last known radio contact was with the Barcelona Spain, control tower at 5:10 a.m. The pilot gave no indication of trouble.

The flight, UTA 887, was to have stopped briefly at Etienne on the Mauretanian coast, before proceeding to Nouakchott.

Miller Fires New Volleys At The Alamo

SAN ANTONIO Tex. (AP)—The Alamo provided the backdrop Friday as Rep. William E. Miller fired new political volleys at a modern-day Texan, Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Republican candidate for vice president mixed sharp attacks, quips on politics and a tribute to the defenders of the Alamo as he reached the final hours of a long, gruelling campaign swing that has taken him far through the West and Midwest in the past 12 days.

Speaking in the President's home state, Miller charged that Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, had followed policies that left them open to charges that they were "soft on Communism."

Miller also levelled the charge that the President has remained silent on the Bobby Baker case "because he is fearful of more damning disclosures before the American people go to the polls on Nov. 3."

House Roars Approval For Adjournment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Friday night voted to adjourn the 88th Congress at the close of business Saturday.

Members cheered introduction of the adjournment resolution and shouted their approval.

The vote came after Congress raced close to the brink of final adjournment.

It scuttled two of President Johnson's "must" bills in its eagerness to go home.

The House approved legislation right and left while the the Senate, its work finished for the year, spun its wheels in recess. But the House hit a late snag on a veterans' pension bill, and voted to adjourn Saturday.

Major Bills Die

Left for dead this year were Johnson's measures on health care for the aged and aid to Appalachia, both assigned a high election-year priority. A proposed increase in Social Security benefits died with the so-called medicare plan.

Once the House got down to work, other adjournment roadblocks fell fast.

A $3.25 billion foreign aid appropriations bill was approved by unanimous consent — an almost unprecedented procedure —and was sent to the White House. A single objection could have delayed action until Saturday.

Then the House approved and sent to the Senate a $1.1 billion catch-all supplemental money bill financing a variety of government programs.

Included was an initial $800 million for the President's already - approved anti -poverty program, $400,000 for study of possible routes for a new Atlantic-Pacific canal and funds for the civil rights law, mass transit and food stamp programs.

Chance Of Compromise

Hopes to adjourn Friday night collapsed when Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., said there was a chance of compromise with the Senate on a disputed $100 million annual boost in non-service pensions for veterans.

Democratic Leader Carl Albert, Okla., then said the House would return Saturday with the intention of finishing business then. Then came the adjournment resolution and roars of approval.

Abandonment of any further efforts to pass the medicare and Appalachia bills was a rare legislative setback for Johnson. Under his prodding the 88th Congress had approved a long string of administration programs during the year.

But the pressure to adjourn and salvage some time for campaigning before the Nov. 3 elections apparently overcame strong administration efforts to get the two bills through.

Johnson Pays Surprise Visit To Pressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made an unexpected visit Friday to say thanks to a printing trades union convention that endorsed him this week.

He drove in the rain from the White House to the Sheraton Park Hotel to appear before the some 1,400 delegates gathered at a meeting of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union of North America, AFL-CIO.

Introduced by the union president, Boyd de Andre of Massachusetts as the President "and the next president" of the United States, Johnson was given a big ovation.

He told the delegates he doesn't have too much time for campaigning because of the affairs of his office, and he appreciated their support.

The visit was not on the President's schedule. Union members said there had been reports that he might show up, but, as Edward Errig of Philadelphia Local 16 put it, "We almost gave up hope."

Another member of the same local, Barney McQuaid, said the President's welcome had been "marvelous."

Students March On U.S. Embassy In Philippines

MANILA (UPI) — Torch-bearing students and labor unionists marched on the U. S. Embassy late Friday to denounce Philippine - American trade ties as "economic imperialism."

The demonstrators then proceeded to the presidential Malacanang Palace to continue their protest and demand an audience with President Diosdado Macapagal, who is preparing to leave Saturday for a state visit to the United States. He will confer in Washington with President Johnson.

Town Left To Hilda

Main Street of Cameron, La., looked like a ghost town yesterday afternoon. All the residents of Cameron left, leaving the town to Hurricane Hilda. The only persons remaining were the sheriff and his men and a few Civil Defense workers. Even animals had been removed.

Barry Continues Whistle-Stop Trip

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater charged Friday, "There's so much dirt under the White House rug, it could qualify for the soil bank."

And he promised, during a whistle-stop trip through Illinois, to take prompt action to revitalize the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if he is elected president.

"We are convinced that we are going to win," he added. "The campaign so far is very, very encouraging."

The GOP presidential nominee's promise to call a conclave of leaders of NATO nations was made here in the eighth and final speech of a busy day that started with an early-morning speech at Cairo.

His remarks about "dirt under the White House rug" came during a platform speech at Champaign before a crowd estimated at 9,000 by Police Chief Harvey Shirley.

Many in the Champaign crowd were University of Illinois students, some of whom demonstrated with signs and interruptions of the senator's talk that they were not fully in agreement with him. Goldwater advised the dissenters to continue their interest in politics but to "keep your minds open and listen to the facts."

In the speech prepared for the Peoria audience, Goldwater said "four years of drift, deception and defeat" under Democratic administrations have put the NATO nations in a state of "disunity and disarray." His purpose, he said, would be to unite these nations "in spirit, purpose and action."

Confetti Flies For Humphrey In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, campaigning through confetti and smog here Friday, used a college podium to call for an election rebuke to "those who would defile this country."

There are forces of bitterness and hate "at work in this country," Humphrey declared, and he identified them as "the Ku Kluxers, the Communists, the Fascists, the Nazis, — yes, the John Birchers."

The audience of students at the University of Southern California broke into cheers and some boos when the Democratic vice-presidential nominee spoke of the John Birch Society.

Humphrey, bringing the Johnson-Humphrey campaign into California, said he was not implying that these groups were wanted by any standard-bearer. "I make no such accusation," he said.

But, he added, "For the first time in the history of this Republic, they have been able to gain a respectable platform and these people must be defeated."

Streamers hung from fire escapes and confetti sprinkled down as Humphrey, wiping smarting eyes, said of the smog: "It was all right up until yesterday. Then a certain Republican candidate (William E. Miller, Republican vice-presidential candidate) came to town and stirred things up."

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — One American was killed and two others injured Friday when an Interocean Airways Constellation carrying cargo from Ireland to Ethiopia crashed as it came in for a landing here.

The dead man was identified as First Officer James Connell. The injured Americans were a flight engineer, Kenneth Smouth, and Leslie Lubash, a navigator.

U.S. Tourist Is Killed On Paris Street

Crushed By Girl Who Leaped From Notre Dame Tower

PARIS (AP) — An American tourist lingering for a last look at the ancient Cathedral of Notre Dame, was killed Friday when a woman crashed down on her in what police called a suicide leap.

The tourist — Miss Veronica McConnell, 21, of 5104 N., 15th St., Philadelphia — and the woman, who remained unidentified, were pronounced dead shortly after they were taken to a hospital.

Miss McConnell was with a group of women who left New York Sept. 18 for a tour of Western Europe. They had been in London, Amsterdam and Rome, and arrived in Paris Thursday night. Friday morning, they started on a tour of Paris, stopped at the cathedral. A light rain was falling.

A guide for the group said the tour of the 800-year-old cathedral had been finished and the tourists were walking around buying souvenirs and taking a last look. Miss McConnell and a girl friend wandered off separately.

"They were just returning to get into the bus," a witness said. "There was the sound of something falling. Miss McConnell was hit and fell crushed against the pavement without uttering a cry."

Miss Rey-Herme had been with another touring group, this group had been in one of the bell rooms of the north tower of the cathedral — the tower to the left while facing the church. The group had just finished hearing a guide describe one of the big bells. The woman broke away from the group, climbed over a stone railing, police said, and plunged about 150 feet to the pavement.

She was about 30, with brown hair and gray eyes. She wore horn-rimmed glasses and on her clothing was a tag with the letters "D. Rey Herme."

She left behind a pocketbook containing three francs — 60 cents — and a brightly colored French comic book.

Miss McConnell was an isotope technician in the physics department at Philadelphia General Hospital. She joined the staff there Sept. 14, but left on vacation since arrangements for it had been made previously.

British Election Seen As Toss-Up

LONDON (UPI) — Bookies Friday made the British general election a toss-up.

Two of the nation's biggest bookie firms, Joe Coral Ltd., and Ladbroke's Ltd., said both the Conservative and Labor parties were being quoted at 4-5 odds.

The new odds reflected a rush of betting on the Conservatives. Earlier this summer the government party was a 4-1 underdog and only two weeks ago Ladbroke's had predicted it would be the 2-1 underdog at election time Oct. 15.

Dock Strike Ends Under Court Order

Longshoremen Back To Work On East Coast

NEW YORK (UPI) — The striking International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) Friday compiled with a federal court back-to-work order and told its 60,000 members to return to the job at East Coast and Gulf Coast ports.

The federal court order — issued after President Johnson said the dock strike could imperil "national health and safety" — is effective for 10 days.

However, it is expected that a subsequent order will be issued under the Taft-Hartley law extending the strike ban to 80 days.

The ILA told its men to be back to work by 7 p.m., EDT.

As the dockworkers prepared to get the millions of tons of shipping idled by the one-day walkout moving once again, talks resumed in an effort to hammer out an agreement to resolve the dispute.

Spy Charges Dropped Against Husband, Wife

NEW YORK (UPI)—The government mysteriously dropped the espionage conspiracy case Friday against an alleged man-and-wife spy team who were charged with stealing vital defense secrets for Russia.

U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey asked for dismissal of the indictment against Alexandre Sokolov, 40, and the woman, known only by the alias of Joy Ann Baltch, 34. Judge Frank F. Dooling granted it and dismissed the jury.

The only explanation Hoey gave for the almost unprecedented move was to say he "acted on instructions of the Department of Justice and in the interest of national defense." The defendants had faced death in the electric chair at Sing Sing if they had been found guilty of peacetime espionage.

Giant Storm Ploughs On Toward Land

150-Mile Winds, Rising Tides Pose Threat

By GAVIN SCOTT

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Hilda drove its terrifying 120 mile-an-hour winds late Friday toward a Louisiana Gulf Coast from which more than 125,000 persons had fled.

The massive storm — bigger in size than all New England—churned northward through a raging Gulf of Mexico at a sluggish 6 m.p.h. It appeared to be shifting east just enough to cause concern to sprawling, below-sea-level New Orleans.

Refugees from Hilda's expected fury choked roads leading north. Many carried their pets along, leaving a string of abandoned, ghost cities in Louisiana's Cajun country.

Frank G. Spiess, acting state Civil Defense director, estimated 125,600 persons had left the low-lying coastal areas with the count not yet complete. It was probably the largest mass evacuation in the history of Louisiana, a state long accustomed to killer hurricanes.

As Hilda ploughed north, uncertain of its exact land target, more than a million anxious residents of southern Louisiana kept a constant watch on its progress.

Towns Evacuated

Morgan City, Cameron and communities along the Atchafalaya Bay at the end of "Hurricane Alley" resembled ghost towns as the rain-driven outer fringes of Hilda touched land. Other than a small caretaker staff, only cats and dogs were left at Cameron — where 500 lives were claimed by Hurricane Audrey in 1957.

The giant Hilda with its buffeting gale winds covers 70,000 square miles.

Hurricane warning flags flew from the mouth of the Mississippi River west to the Texas border. A hurricane watch — one step below a hurricane warning — remained in effect from Mobile, Ala., to the Mississippi River and along the entire Texas coast.

Tides were expected to run three to six feet.

Southwest Of Orleans

Hilda's eye — the deadly calm center around which destructive winds swirl — was located in latest reports about 235 miles southwest of New Orleans.

The Weather Bureau said the mighty storm was leaving its west-northwest path for a more northerly path toward Louisiana's marshlands. It continued forward at seven miles an hour.

From the 150-mile winds at the center, hurricane force winds extend out 80 miles and gale winds — up to 74 m.p.h. — go out 200 miles to the north and east.

As the storm moved nearer, Civil Defense and other emergency forces stepped up activities to complete the mass evacuation of the coastal marshlands.

Guard On Duty

Three companies of Louisiana National Guardsmen went into the coastal areas to assist residents in getting out before rising waters and tides seal off the last escape routes.

Morgan City, a thriving seaport of 14,000 persons and shore-based headquarters for much of the billion-dollar offshore drilling operations, was evacuated during the morning.

Guardsmen and sheriff's deputies went from door to door spreading the alarm. School buses and passenger trains were pressed into service to evacuate the refugees to inland Opelousas.

Deserted Cameron took an an eerie appearance as a few Civil Defense workers stood watch. Its townspeople got out over 24 hours ago.

Further east, only a few persons remained at Grand Isle — southernmost town in Louisiana.

The job of feeding and caring for the mounting swell of refugees quickly became a formidable one.

Red Cross Assists

The Red Cross sent in 10,000 cots and 20,000 blankets to the Lake Charles and Lafayette areas. Both the Salvation Army and Civil Defense massed supplies.

Democrats Serve Notice On Congressmen Who Aid Goldwater

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) —House Democratic liberals served notice Friday that they will try to throw out of the party any Democratic congressman who supports Sen. Barry M. Goldwater for president.

The blunt warning was delivered Friday by Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., leader of the liberal Democratic study group, in a speech to the House.

Although he used no names, Blatnik made it clear he was addressing his remarks to some Southern Democratic congressmen. They have endorsed Republican presidential candidates or slates of "unpledged" presidential electors in the past, and suffered no party disciplinary action.

Blatnik and nine other Democrats said in a joint statement:

We do not feel that such members should be welcomed back into the Democratic fold and be entitled to committee assignments and other privileges on an equal basis with those members of the Democratic caucus who supported our national candidates and platform."

"We are, therefore, taking this means to serve notice of our firm intention to oppose the seating, in the January, 1965, Democratic caucus, of any present member or candidate elected to the House of Representatives on the Democratic ticket who supported, campaigned for or otherwise advocated the election of a president or vice president other than the candidates duly nominated by the Democratic party at our convention," the liberal group said.

"Similar action will be directed toward any member or candidate who supported so-called unpledged or independent slates of electors for president and vice president."

A spokesman for the liberals said that no Democratic congressman is known to have endorsed Goldwater this year, but some have made no secret of their dissatisfaction with the Democratic ticket of President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Ouster from the Democratic caucus is the most severe party discipline that could be inflicted upon a congressman. It would leave him without means to secure committee assignments, unless he is accepted by the opposition party. It would mean the almost sure loss of coveted seniority rights.

Southerners are particularly jealous of their seniority, which has given them control of many key committees.

Others signing the statement were Reps. Richard Bolling, Mo., Julia Butler Hansen, Wash., Chet Holifield, Calif., James O'Hara, Mich., Melvin Price, Ill., Henry Reuss, Wis., Frank Thompson, N.J., John Brademas, Ind., and Morris Udall, Ariz.

Congress Sets Good Record On Education

More Federal Aid Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Totaling up an impressive record on education legislation, Congress empleted action Friday on a final bill aimed at improving classroom instruction.

The Senate approved by voice vote and sent to President Johnson a compromise bill that expands two federal aid programs. The main features:

—Extends until June 30, 1966, the so-called impacted areas program of assistance to school districts where enrollment has been swollen by children of federal employes. It funnels about $390 million a year into local school districts.

—Expands and extends until June 30, 1968, at a cost of about $1.8 billion, the seven-year-old National Defense Education Act (NDEA). This is designed to upgrade instruction at all levels—from grade school through college.

The House approved the bill Thursday.

Before final Senate action, senators called the 88th Congress the "greatest education Congress in history."

The impacted areas and NDEA bill followed a formidable array of education bills passed in the last two years.

Congress last year broke a stalemate created by the religious issue by approving a landmark $1.2 billion program of federal grants and loans to colleges for classroom construction. It was the first general aid legislation of this type to clear Congress.

Also approved and signed into law in the last two years have been bills providing:

—Federal subsidies for construction of medical school facilities and nursing schools.

—Scholarships for needy college students.

—A $260 million-a-year expansion of the vocational education program.

—Federal grants for library construction, and others.

The Frederick jurist also presented an autographed copy of the 203-page historical book to the state library.

The book, Delaplaine's third major work, deals with early Marylanders such as the state's first governor, Thomas Johnson; Roger B. Taney, an early chief justice of the Supreme Court, and Francis Scott Key, author of the National Anthem.

Ike Cannot Define Issues Of Campaign

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Friday that "something's wrong" with the presidential campaign.

"I can't define the issues," the titular head of the Republican party told United Press International in an exclusive interview during a visit to the New York World's Fair. "I just can't define the issues," he repeated.

The former Chief Executive at first said he "didn't want to get into politics" during his day-long tour of the fair grounds, but a serious, preoccupied look came over his face and he added without further questioning:

"The campaign is getting to be a confused state of affairs."

He was asked if he was worried because President Johnson, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater and their running mates were becoming "too personal."

"I don't know — something's wrong," Eisenhower replied. "It's confusing."

Eisenhower's remarks were terminated by a group of well-wishers. Wherever he, his wife Mamie, and their entourage went there were cheers from the thousands who recognized them. The former president's serious mood disappeared and he resumed his usual smiling countenance.

So. Vietnamese Move Against Red Roadblock

SAIGON (UPI) — Government forces Friday took up the challenge of Communist guerrillas who set up a roadblock only 20 miles from Saigon and brazenly dared the government to drive them out. Heavy fighting was reported.

American helicopter pilots who flew over National Highway 13 leading north from Saigon said about 2,000 Communist troops were seen maneuvering in an attempt to ambush the large government forces moving up from Saigon.

A major battle appeared to be in the making. The helicopter crews reported a fire fight had broken out west of the road on the approaches to the Communist positions.

The main Communist roadblock and a series of smaller ones farther north isolated the frequently beleaguered district headquarters at Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon. The guerrillas also set up anti-aircraft emplacements and were firing on American planes and helicopters.

The rebels cut off traffic on Highway 13 Wednesday night by seizing the roadside hamlet of Thoi Ha. Then they sent a letter to local authorities defying them to drive them out.

Pilots said the Communists had dug in a 50-caliber machine-gun along the Saigon-Ben Cat road to shot at aircraft. They reported the rebels were so close to Ben Cat that helicopters were shot at while landing and taking off.

Holy Council Hears Plan For Common Bible

VATICAN CITY (UPI) —The Ecumenical Council heard suggestions Friday that Roman Catholic and Protestant scholars get together to work towards a common Christian Bible.

The suggestion came during debate on the complicated subject of divine revelation.

Bishop John an Dodewaard of Haarlem, Holland, told the gathering of about 2,000 cardinals, archbishops, bishops and other prelates that the translation of the Bible in modern languages "should be done with separated brethern in harmony with the pastoral and ecumenical goals of the council."

He also gave support to a proposal for official church sanction of a Bible. The proposal is contained in the document on the sources of revelation under debate.

Of the 16 prelates heard Friday, half took the more conservative attitude that the Catholic Church must continue its stress of tradition as a major source of revelation. Non-Catholic Christian religions hold that the Bible is the only source.

Italian Archbishop Enrico Nicodemo of Bardi highlighted the conservative viewpoint by saying "there are truths which the church teaches which are not in written Scripture."

The revelation document also encourages translations into modern languages of the Bible. Efforts are being made in exotic languages like the African Swahili, for instance, but there also are new Catholic translations of the Bible being worked on in English.

"If these actual translations were made up through a common effort with our separated brethren," the text of the revelation document says, "they could be used by all Christians."

A new Catholic approved edition of the Protestant Revised Standard Version of the Bible is scheduled for publication in the United States in January, with a preface by Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago. It will be an American version of the English edition which was approved by the Holy Office and given an imprimatur by Bishop Gordon Joseph Gray of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Uniform Assessment System Is Planned

The State Department of Assessments and Taxation announced Thursday that steps will be taken "immediately" to make assessments as uniform as possible throughout the State.

This would require Baltimore City to lower its over-all assessment level and 11 counties to raise theirs.

In making the announcement, Albert W. Ward, department director, made public a report which he said showed that "great progress" had been made in attaining state-wide uniformity of assessments.

For the first time since the department started making these state-wide reports in 1959, every subdivision is assessing real estate at 50 per cent or more of market prices.

The range reported in the latest survey was from 50.5 per cent of market prices in both Queen Annes and Calvert counties to 60.2 per cent in Baltimore City.

The average state-wide was 55.2 per cent of market prices this year, compared with 54.5 per cent in 1959 and 54.7 per cent in 1962, the year of the last report.

Uniformity of assessments is of major significance because a major part of state aid to the subdivisions is pegged to the local assessment levels. Those subdivisions with lower assessments receive proportionately more state aid.

While noting progress in reaching uniformity, Mr. Ward expressed dissatisfaction with the discrepancy in Baltimore City and eleven counties from the state-wide average of 55.2 per cent.

In a letter to the chief assessors in the 24 subdivisions, he said:

"Steps must be taken immediately to bring these jurisdictions more in line with the state-wide average."

Mr. Ward asked each of the chief assessors to submit monthly reports starting in January "showing progress in this area."

William H. Riley, the state's chief supervisor of assessments, said the department aimed at achieving a deviation by any subdivision from the state-wide average of no more than 2 percentage points.

This would require the city to lower its average of 60.2 per cent to the state-wide level of 55.2 per cent and Calvert and Queen Annes counties to raise theirs from 50.5 per cent to 55.2.

Mr. Riley said exact uniformity would be unattainable because the market price of a property might change rapidly through repeated sales. Therefore, the property's ratio of assessments to market price would change.

The 1964 survey was based on the sale prices or appraised value of 4,802 representative properties in all subdivisions. The average ratios for each subdivision listed in the report reflect the relation of assessments on these properties to the sale prices or appraised value.

A special six-man committee conducted the survey.

The average ratios of the 24 subdivisions follow:

Allegany, 53.4 per cent; Anne Arundel, 52.3; Baltimore, 55.9; Calvert, 50.5; Caroline, 52.8; Carroll, 51.1; Cecil, 53.2; Charles, 51.5; Dorchester, 53.1; Frederick, 50.7; Garrett, 51.4; Harford, 53.9; Howard, 56.1; Kent, 53; Montgomery, 53.4; Prince Georges, 53.2; Queen Annes, 50.5; St. Marys, 50.7; Somerset, 53.9; Talbot, 50.6; Washington, 55.1; Wicomico, 53.8; Worcester, 52.2, and Baltimore City, 60.2.

Mr. Ward said that in some subdivisions it would require an increase in overall assessments to reach an approximation of the State-wide average.

However, he said in Baltimore City a wide gap exists between assessments.

Mr. Riley described as "drastic" the discrepancy between assessments of some industrial property and residential property.

Oakland Grocer Fined $5,000 In Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE (AP) — William E. Naylor, Western Maryland business man, was fined $5,000 and placed on two years probation today for failing to pay $5,000 in federal income taxes.

Naylor, 46-year-old grocer and beef cattle raiser from Oakland, Md., was sentenced in U.S. District Court by Judge Edward S. Northrop.

He was convicted of evading taxes on about $25,000 in unreported income over a five-year period ending in 1960.

Northrop, in sentencing Naylor, said he was not imposing a prison term because of the number of family members and employes depending on him for their livelihood. Under the terms of the sentence, a violation of the probation would require Naylor to be returned to court for further sentencing.

Senator Beall, who spoke briefly, said he was pleased to have had a hand in making this project a reality, but stressed that it was only the first step. He expressed hope that he would be around for future ceremonies opening other treatment facilities around the county.

Mr. Shinnamon also was called upon to say a few words. He paid tribute to the seven men who are serving on the sanitary commission without compensation of any kind.

"Their only reward is the knowledge that they are helping to make Allegany County an attractive and progressive community." Mr. Shinnamon said. "It is this kind of selfless dedication that sets the example for all of us."

Mr. Aldridge, Robert Reinhard and Alvin H. Rankin have served as members of the sanitary commission since its creation nearly three years ago. Mr. Aldridge said that in that time the commission has held about 100 meetings. Four other members were added to the commission when it was expanded June 1, 1963. Other members are George K. Steiner, Russell G. Robeson, Kenneth K. Kennedy and Joseph O. Mello.

The only other speaker yesterday was Leonard M. Glass, a representative of the Baltimore engineering firm of Matz, Childs and Associates. He has been serving as project engineer.

Indian custom in ancient Peru required a prospective bridegroom to steal a garment of his beloved. If her parents declined to steal the garment back, the couple became engaged.

Two Indictments Returned In Civil Rights Trio Deaths

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI) — A federal grand jury Friday returned two indictments in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers at Philadelphia, Miss., this summer.

But U. S. District Judge Sidney S. Mize ordered the grand jury "not to reveal any information about this case until the defendants are placed under arrest."

Thus the jury, completing a two-week investigation, refused to release the names of the persons indicted until the FBI arrests them.

"I think it would be wise to keep it secret now," said Mize. "As soon as the first defendant is arrested, of course, then it will be public."

There was also no indication as to the charge leveled in the indictments. The jury has been hearing evidence in the slayings of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, of New York, and Negro James Chaney, 22, of Meridan, Miss.

The men disappeared June 21, shortly after being released from the Neshoba County Jail at Philadelphia. A massive search failed to turn up any clue to them for weeks.

But on Aug. 4, obviously acting on a tip, FBI agents using a bulldozer uncovered their bodies deep in an earthern dam near Philadelphia. All three had been shot.

Judge Mize did not dismiss the grand jury. He told jurors, which included 22 whites and one Negro, to come to Jackson on Oct. 21 to resume their investigation of the case.

There had been reliable reports that the Justice Department was seeking indictments against at least nine persons in connection with various acts of racial violence in the Philadelphia area.

A Neshoba County grand jury, also investigating the slayings, wound up its work earlier this week without returning any indictments.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Ev is 27 and I am 24. We have been married for two years and expect our first child any minute.

Last night Ev's oldest sister telephoned to say her daughter Barbara (age 17) was in tears. Barbara's date broke his leg and will be unable to take her to a very important high school sorority dance. She asked Ev if he'd be a life-saver" and take Barbara. Ev replied, "I'd love to."

I don't think a married man has any business at a high school sorority dance and I said so. Furthermore this is no time for him to leave me alone. He insists I am narrow-minded, jealous, plus a few other things.

If you tell me I am wrong I will apologize. Thank you. — P.G. WIFE

Dear Wife: Your husband belongs at a high school sorority dance like a skunk belongs at a lawn party.

If he is foolish enough to go I hope the stork visits you while he's out twisting with the kids. It would serve him right.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 18 years old now and it took me six years to figure something out.

I began to date when I was 12. My mother was probably afraid if I didn't start early I'd be an old maid. By the time I was 14 I looked 18 and acted 22.

Several of these boys I went with tried to talk me into doing things I knew was wrong. Some of them succeeded and I finally figured out why. I was so dumb I was flattered that the boys considered me desirable.

I realize now that a pass is no compliment. I was just being used. If these boys really cared about me, they would have treated me with respect. I know, too, that after some of them got what they wanted they lost interest and passed the word that I was a pushover.

I'm thankful I wised up and straightened out before I got into serious trouble and ruined my life.

Please print my letter, Ann. I wish I had seen one like it when I was 14. — SMARTER NOW

Dear Smarter: You were a lucky girl and I hope your effort to help other teenagers scores.

Dear Ann: I'd like to share something with the mother who was distressed because her son married Miss X. She could see none of the girl's fine qualities which her son saw.

I have carried an article with me for 54 years. It appeared in the Jackson (Mich.) Citizen Patriot in 1910 — author "Anonymous." It reads:

"Is love blind? Our cynical friends tell us it is. But I do not agree. Love is the only thing that sees. Where would you be today if someone who loved you did not see things in you that nobody else saw?

"Who but your mother thought you were the finest baby ever born? And why did she have faith in you when no one else did? Because love saw.

"Then the best girl in the world said she'd marry you—even though her friends asked one another, 'What did SHE see in HIM?' Love saw.

"When things were so black you even lost faith in yourself, a great-hearted man or woman became your friend and pulled you through. Why? Because love saw.

"There is something fine and big in every one of us, but only those who love can see it. Who can say love is blind?" — A READER

Dear Reader: Thank you for sharing. After what the Senator from Colorado pulled at the Republican National Convention you can be sure I checked to see if the Jackson (Mich.) Citizen Patriot existed in 1910—and indeed it did.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you help us understand a new girl in our crowd? She is a high school junior and we like her very much, but something about her is a mystery. It is also irritating.

Veronica has a habit of laughing out loud over absolutely nothing. Her laugh is sort of shrill—almost a shrief. It can get on a person's nerves. If I say to her "What did you do last night?" She will reply, "Nothing much—stayed home, looked at TV and washed my hair." Then she gives out with this piercing laugh.

Once I asked her what was so funny and she answered "Nothing."

Is her sense of humor superior? Can it be that we are too dense to get the point and she doesn't want to explain things. Thanks for your help.

—THE CROWD

DEAR CROWD: Veronica laughs because she is self-consious, not because she thinks something is funny.

Say nothing but try to make her feel comfortable and she will laugh less.

Parents are people—they can be right and they can be wrong.

To help understand their viewpoint and to promote harmony at home, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Materials In Harmony

An interesting home decor can easily be achieved by harmonizing basic materials such as wood, ceramic tile and brick. A warm pattern in a ceramic tile wainscoting in a recreation room, for example, is a perfect complement to wall panels of polished wood. Quarry tile floors, too, will blend with almost any type of wall covering material — and its tough surface will stand almost any kind of punishment.

Fall Conference Socials Outlined By Auxiliary

Final plans for a social get-together, tea and entertainment program for the fall conference of the Second District were formulated at the meeting of Knobley Mountain Post 136 Ladies Auxiliary Thursday evening. The conference will be October 25.

The bazaar to be held October 5-9 by the post and auxiliary also was discussed. The auxiliary will be in charge of the baked goods, fancy work, and table of material remnants as well as white elephant and soup and sandwich sales.

Games for both adults and children and pony rides will be under the direction of the post. The bazaar will open at 7:30 each evening. Eight babies were entered by deadline last evening for the baby contest to be held on the ninth.

Knobley Mountain Auxiliary, hostess for the conference, will entertain with a coffee hour at the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club during the registration at 10 a.m. October 25.

At 11 a.m., a meditation will be conducted by Robert Mullin, from the post. It will be followed by an entertainment program consisting of a clarinet and trumpet duet by Debra and Gregg Phillips and a hymn sung by Miss Roseann Weber.

Following a turkey dinner at the post home at noon a social hour will begin at 1 p.m. A skit, "How To Get a Man," will be given by Mrs. Goldie Huston and Mrs. Ruth Tabler. The former and William McCullough will sing. Virgil T. Welsh will play the organ. On behalf of the auxiliary, Mrs. Ramona Leighty will extend greetings. The response will be given by a member of Kelly Mansfield Unit, Piedmont. Ray W. Lee commander of the Tenth District American Legion, will extend the welcome and Charles Fryer, mayor of Ridgeley, will speak.

Mrs. Bertie Chandler, president of the hostess auxiliary, will conduct the opening ceremony at 1:45 and introduce guests including Mrs. Ethel Cross, Martinsburg, Second District president, who will conduct the business session, following an invocation by Mr. Mullin. Benediction will be given by Mrs. Margaret Weber.

Concluding activities a tea will be held at 4 o'clock. The entertainment will be a pantomime of Burl Ives by J. O. Phillips.

The Legion will hold its regular "Buck Night" party tonight at 8:30 at the home. Music will be by the Two Hits and a Miss. A country store will be conducted during the evening. The public is welcome.

Adequate Counterspace

Minimum countertop space for the average kitchen should be about 140 inches, according to home planning experts. This includes 36 inches for food preparation, 24 inches adjacent to the range, up to 36 inches each side of the sink and 15 inches next to the refrigerator. Countertops should be surfaced with a material such as ceramic tile that is waterproof, stain-proof and impervious to heat.

Foyers For Transition

Most homemakers want a foyer or entranceway to their homes, surveys have shown. Reason most often given by women for wanting a foyer or entranceway is that it's a transition area between the outdoors and the living areas, and is often surfaced with durable, easy-to-clean materials such as ceramic or quarry tile. Thus it acts as a buffer zone against dirt tracked in from the outdoors.

Allegany County Homemakers Chorus will practice Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Central YMCA.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Choose Earrings To Flatter

Are you an expert at choosing the size and shape of earring that best suits your size and shape of face? The size is right if it's in proportion to your face. The heavy, massive piece is sure to dwarf a tiny, fragil face. Conversely, finicky delicate designs get lost on either the bony or fleshy countenance. For this type, a middle-of-the-road choice will be most becoming. Exaggerated, showy earbobs seldom flatter any but the face that has exquisite and accurately proportioned planes.

As for the shape that does the most for your face, there is one very easy rule that will always guide you to successful selection: Choose an earring with lines that run contrary to the lines in your face that you'd like to minimize. A square jaw is softened by a rounded earring; a puffy or round cheekbone is given an improved definition by angular designs.

Thank your stars that neither the discomfort of ear-piercing nor the cost of real gems is necessary to the adornment of your lobes. A little good judgment is all that it takes to turn this pretty trick.

A SUCCESSFUL CAREER CAN BE YOURS if you know the five steps to take before approaching that personnel director. You'll find these "Steps to a Successful Career," carefully detailed in the booklet of the same name. Stricken Funds Are Restored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., announced late Friday that strong support for President Johnson's Appalachian Regional Development Act accounted for salvaging $800,000 he had obtained to begin the vital program.

"Although the money was stricken from the final appropriations bill during a morning conference, reconsideration was given for its need and it was restored," Byrd said.

House members accepted the appropriation to move ahead swiftly once the authorizing legislation is adopted by that body.

The money cannot be spent until the House adopts the basic Appalachia bill, Byrd said.

Byrd, who is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, obtained the money at the request of the White House for the first year's operation of the commission planning the program.

When a House - Senate conference group began work on the differences in the supplemental appropriations bill, in which the $800,000 was included, they deleted it and notified Byrd who went to work to salvage it.

Byrd conferred with officials at the White House and with Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, member of the conference group.

Byrd was later notified that the money was restored. He said he was most confident that both the Senate and House would adopt the final conference report.

Stricken earlier from the appropriations was $350,000 sought by Sen. Jennings Randolph, also D-W. Va., for a water resources survey in the 11-state Appalachian region. However this amount was not restored as was Byrd's request.

Earlier the committee retained $800 million for the President's anti-poverty bill.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Soybeans, corn and rye closed mixed Friday, oats were steady to easy and wheat firm on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, soybeans were down ¼ to up 2¾; corn down ⅛ to up 1; wheat unchanged to up ¾; oats up ⅛ to ¼; and rye up ⅛ to 1.

Soybean futures dipped at mid-day then turned upward in idle trading with nearby contracts up more than 5 cents a bushel. The gains apparently came back in anticipation of a bullish private crop estimate to be released after the close of markets. November through July deliveries traded at new season highs.

Corn futures were fairly strong after receding at mid-day.

The wheat market was firm under commission house buying, of good volume.

Oats buying was scattered with one of the elevator houses selling December oats.

Some stoploss orders were uncovered in rye through moderate buying.

Garrett Co. Is Free Of Brucellosis

Garrett County recently became the eighth Maryland county to gain Brucellosis-free status.

According to Dr. T. A. Ladson, director of the Maryland Live Stock Sanitary Service, the establishment of a Brucellosis-free area is a major stride toward protecting the community against the economic loss and health hazard of this dangerous cattle disease.

Before a certificate could be awarded Garrett County Commissioners, all eligible cattle in the area had to be tested for Brucellosis. All cattle in the county had to be free of the disease for an 18-month period.

In order to maintain this desirable status, Dr. Ladson said, it will be necessary that cattle owners give careful attention to the importation and additions to their herds that no new infection be introduced into Garrett County.

The seven other Brucellosis-free counties are Anne Arundel, Kent, Dorchester, Wicomico, Worcester, St. Mary's and Calvert.

Warren Report: Rumors Continue

That the Warren Commission's report will not be the last word on the assassination of John F. Kennedy is daily becoming more evident. The remaining ambiguities—and there are many—will, as in the case of assassinations of the past, provide an abundance of material for further study and scholarly debate.

This is especially true of the report's central conclusion—that neither Lee Harvey Oswald nor Jack Ruby was involved in any conspiracy which caused the assassination or what came after it. Universal acceptance of this view will never be achieved.

With respect to the commission's recommendations for the future protection of Presidents and other high officials: Some of these recommendations will require legislative enactment. Others will require aggressive administrative action.

But it would be folly to assume that any set of precautions could protect a President under all circumstances. In this respect, it is ironic that the Warren Commission's report should have been delivered into the hands of a President who seems at least as contemptuous of personal safety as was his predecessor.

The safeguards with which public figures are surrounded are seldom better than the man's determination to protect himself and in the case of the President of the United States, they may not be as good.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

A Goldwater Government

When one casts a ballot for a President, one is also voting in effect for a long list of important appointive offices which the candidate may or may not be able to fill with qualified men. Usually the list remains more or less of a mystery until it is too late to affect the issue on election day. Sargent Shriver undertook a talent-scouting expedition for John F. Kennedy back in 1960, but his findings were not generally known until after Kennedy had defeated Nixon. Even the shape of Lyndon Johnson's next Administration (assuming that he will win) is a bit unpredictable, for the rumors go forth that most of the remaining Kennedy appointees will drift back into private life once LBJ has a mandate to proceed "on his own."

In the case of a Republican victory this November, the problem of man power has been bothering many sober people who are wondering if the groups now supporting Barry Goldwater can yield sufficient wisdom and expertise to flesh out a responsible government. Goldwater himself did something to reassure these people the other day when he let it be known that he is "thinking about appointing Nixon" Secretary of State. Since Richard Nixon's knowledge of foreign affairs is both deep and comprehensive, and since his judgment in this field is sure, there couldn't be a better choice. Assuredly Goldwater had Nixon in mind when he implied at the Hershey, Pennsylvania, conference that he would pick a man for Secretary of State who had Eisenhower's confidence. It is good, however, to have the last doubts removed on this score.

Goldwater also did something to allay some fears when he set up a "Peace Through Preparedness" task force to advise him on defense issues. This task force is headed by Neil McElroy, who was Eisenhower's Secretary of Defense. Other members of the group include former Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas, Representative Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, former U. S. Senator Prescott S. Bush of Connecticut, Grace Line President Wilfred J. McNeil, and Admiral Arthur Radford and General Nathan Twining, each of whom has served as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

This is a high-powered group, but it will not be really effective for Goldwater if it does not proceed at once to put its recommendations into the form of a position paper that could be made available to voters before November. A succinct but explicitly detailed pronouncement on Goldwater defense policies that carries the recommendation of men like Admiral Radford, General Twining and Neil McElroy would do much to banish the charges of "trigger happiness" that the Democrats are still floating to discredit Goldwater.

The technical aid that is necessary to put a position paper together in short order should interpose no great difficulty. The National Scholars for Goldwater and Miller Committee is filled with the names of people who could be dragooned for the task, such as Stefan Possony, the Director of the International Political Studies Program at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University, or Gerhart Niemeyer, Professor of Political Science at Notre Dame.

The Republican group called the Policy Task Force on the Cause of Peace and Freedom, which was named by Goldwater on September 10, happens to be headed by Richard Nixon, Goldwater's designated choice for Secretary of State. Since Nixon will be making some important campaign speeches this month, it can be assumed that he will be passing along to the voters the wisdom of his fellow Peace and Freedom Committee members, who include General Lucius Clay, the hero of the Berlin Air Lift; Herbert Hoover Jr., Senator Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, and Representative Melvin Laird of Wisconsin.

There are brains in the Goldwater camp, enough brains to staff a first-rate government. But the problem of the Republicans is to prove the case for this statement in four short weeks. One can think of a lot of things that should be done. The name of Admiral Arleigh Burke should be added to that "Peace Through Preparedness" group. Professors Vladimir Petrov and David Rowe of Yale should be asked to do papers on the Chinese-Russian conflict and on Vietnam for the Cause of Peace and Freedom Committee. And so forth and so on, if there is to be more than window-dressing. Just to announce some committees is not enough.

The Losing Battle

China Problem Must Be Dealt With Immediately

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON —The news that Red China has completed and is about to test a bomb such as was dropped by the United States on Japan in 1945 comes as a shock to most people in the world. It has been often said that this development was inevitable. Scientists everywhere have predicted that, given the necessary materials, any country could produce not only atomic bombs but also hydrogen bombs as well as intercontinental missiles. The big question has always been—when?

Present estimates from authoritative sources indicate that five years hence Red China could have a stockpile somewhat like that currently possessed by France, and 10 years from now hydrogen bombs and nuclear warheads that could be used on medium-range missiles relatively close to what Russia has today. In 15 years, Red China could have a full-fledged arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of striking the United States.

But what happens within the next 15 years? Do the American people merely shrug off the news, and hope that with the passage of time some solution will be found? Is there to be a period of drifting, or will world opinion demand that the nuclear problem be given immediate consideration in an effort to find some way to avert a world catastrophe.

For the moment, the big danger lies in the Far East, where the possession of nuclear bombs by Red China will generate a wave of fear and apprehension in Japan, the Philippines and Southeast Asia. For once the leaders of Red China make up their minds to dominate the Asian world by threatening to use nuclear weapons, they could apply a pressure to which the response might well be appeasement and continuous concessions.

But where will Russia be in all this? She, too, may someday be menaced by Red China. The Soviet government five years ago gave a reactor to the Peiping government for peaceful uses, and that is how plutonium, which is the basic ingredient in the bomb, has been produced.

The United States, it will be recalled, did the same thing when it furnished 50 reactors of a peaceful nature to more than 30 countries and boasted about it as a measure looking toward world peace. But at the same time strict agreements were entered into to permit inspection and verification of the use of the reactors furnished to the various countries abroad.

Great Britain has nuclear bombs, but is largely dependent on American strength to defend her people. President de Gaulle, unable to get help comparable to that which Britain received from this country, has decided to go along on his own and is now engaged in developing a nuclear arsenal for France.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries have been told the United States will furnish protection with nuclear weapons. But there is a big debate going on as to how an American President can be depended upon to give the word in time to save Europe from being overrun by land armies with small tactical nuclear weapons. When the current election campaign is over, doubtless more information will be disclosed as to the measures the United States will take to prevent such contingencies.

But a far larger question than the use of tactical nuclear weapons in land warfare now has arisen since Secretary of State Rusk this week decided to tell the world that this government has obtained information about the forthcoming test of an atomic bomb by Red China. The purpose in issuing this statement was undoubtedly to warn the world of the dangers ahead, and perhaps even to begin to find a way eventually to bring Red China into an international understanding to ban the use of nuclear weapons.

Speculation, of course, has begun already as to what impact the announcement about the coming test will have on the Soviet Union, whose territory borders on Red China. Some diplomats are guessing that Peiping would be tempted to threaten the use of the atomic bomb and to give an impression of growing strength. But others think possession of the bomb may make Red China more cautious and that the real reason for developing a nuclear capability is to gain a leverage in diplomacy which otherwise would be unavailable.

Certainly it isn't sensible for any nation with a limited supply of nuclear weapons to engage in a reckless attack and thus invite "massive retaliation." Japan, the Philippines, Thailand and other countries in Southeast Asia will probably have to be given immediate protection such as NATO members enjoy—that is, a provision that an attack on any of the Southeast Asian nations would be considered also to be an attack on the United States and other Allied countries.

The forthcoming test does not mean that Red China will achieve immediately a position of commanding strength. It does mean that the rest of the world is now being alerted by Secretary Rusk's announcement to the importance of dealing at once with the problems that the world must not allow to go unsolved during the next 15 years while Red China is building up her nuclear strength.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

'ROUND AND 'ROUND — The nation's capital is one of the few major cities in the country that can now boast that most modern addition to aid motor traffic — a circumferential highway. It has caused an acute observer to remark that "those who always knew Washington officials ran around in circles can now prove it."

During a recent hearing before a congressional committee, a matter arose concerning some secret activities of the Central Intelligence Agency. The committee chairman, wanting to inquire further into the matter, asked whether anyone from the CIA was present. The only answer was a lot of laughter.

PHOTOGENIC TIE—Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, late for a Democratic congressional picture-taking session with President Johnson, was told by his secretary that the light tie he was wearing just wouldn't do.

In desperation, Gallagher's eyes lighted on the chauffeur for Rep. Charles Halleck, the House Republican leader. The chauffeur was wearing a dark tie, photogenically perfect for the occasion.

Gallagher explained his problem and the chauffeur, in a magnanimous display of bi-partisanship, exchanged ties with him on the spot.

After the picture-taking was over, Gallhagher ran into a number of his colleagues who unstintingly complimented him on his fine looking cravat. Gallagher is seriously considering letting that Republican chauffeur pick out all his ties.

What To Do When Children Swallow Things

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The children's hospital medical center of Boston recently sent out a release recommending the inclusion of charcoal and ipecac in the home first-aid kit. These products are helpful antidotes in certain types of accidental poisoning.

This mishap remains a dreadful problem with young children, who put anything and everything in the mouth. No matter how careful and alert the parents may be the toddler has a genius for finding and drinking household products that are not meant to go into the stomach.

Ipecac is an old time emetic; by making the child throw up, the poison comes with it. But the hospital warns that vomiting is not advisable when lye has been swallowed, as the return journey of the substance may again burn the esophagus. Throwing up kerosene also may be hazardous as some of it may be inhaled. Antidotes for irritative poisons include milk, egg white, and starch water.

Even the universal antidote (2 parts pulverized charcoal, 1 part milk of magnesia, 1 part tannic acid) is of no value when the tyke swallows a solid object that may stick somewhere along the gastrointestinal tract. Surgery will be needed when X-rays show the thingumabob has failed to pass.

It is surprising how much junk can be swallowed without causing symptoms. A mental patient was operated on in 1961 for removal of foreign bodies in the gastrointestinal tract. They were identified as coins. But numismatics was not this man's only hobby. Repeated X-rays at a later date revealed his consumption of various metal substances. These objects were not passed through his intestine.

By the end of two years, a large collection was stashed away in the small intestine. The man was not complaining. Surgery was advised because the repository was large enough to be felt through the abdominal wall.

The Brooklyn surgeons reported the patients' loot in the New York State Journal of Medicine. There were 34 keys of various sizes and 20 pieces of money, including a dollar bill, 17 quarters, and 7 nickels. There were 9 chains, 8 crosses (Catholic and Jewish), 3 pocket knives, 2 beer can openers, 4 nail files, 3 bracelets, and 39 broken beads. All together there were 159 articles, weighing 2 pounds 1 ounce.

DISTRESS COMES AND GOES

J. C. writes: Does a person ever really get rid of osteoarthritis?

REPLY

No, but symptoms come and go, depending upon activity and the weather. A few aspirins and heat go a long way toward relieving symptoms. Severe osteoarthritis of one or two joints is treated with injections of ACTH or hydrocortisone directly into the joint.

SENILITY AND SEX

B. P. writes: Do more older men than women become senile?

REPLY

They run neck and neck, with the odds in favor of males (5.19 per cent vs. 4.56 per cent). The difference is insignificant, considering that in this age group, there are twice as many women as men.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Vice Presidential Candidate Miller Involved In Conflict Of Interest

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It looks as if good old Bill Miller, the would-be Vice President, has got himself caught in the same conflict of interest that forced Sherman Adams out as Ike's No. 1 aide in the White House.

Only this time, instead of vicuna and wool, which snagged Adams, Congressman Miller has got himself involved in felt. Like Adams, he has also got himself involved in representations at the Federal Trade Commission.

It will be recalled that Sherman Adams intervened at the Commission on behalf of his friend Bernard Goldfine, regarding a wool case, after Adams had received a coat, suits of clothes, rugs, and free hotel entertainment from Goldfine.

In the case of Miller, his law firm wrote a letter to the Federal Trade Commission regarding a consent degree by which the Lockport Felt Company and ten other felt companies, accused of violating the antitrust laws, agreed to stop fixing prices.

The letter to the Trade Commission, dated Jan. 31, 1964, was written by Miller's law firm, signed by Neil R. Farmelo, a partner, and had Miller's name at the top of the letterhead. It read:

"Enclosed herewith is a notice of appearance on behalf of Lockport Felt Co., Inc., with regard to the above proceeding. (This referred to the anti-trust suit against the 11 felt companies.)

"This letter will constitute a reply for and on behalf of Lockport Felt Co., Inc., indicating that it is interested in having the proceeding disposed of by the entry of a consent order."

Pecuniary Interest

Not only did Miller's firm represent Lockport Felt, but on two occasions, July 23, 1956, and February 4, 1958, Miller got up on the floor of Congress to try to influence legislation in favor of his company. The bill was to waive import duties on certain kinds of coarse wool which would have helped the companies making felt out of hair. It was opposed by the companies making felt out of paper, of which Miller's company is one.

The Congressman did not tell colleagues, when he made the speech, that he had a pecuniary interest in the legislation. Even if he had, it was against the ethics of Congress to debate or vote on this bill or any legislation affecting any company in which he had a pecuniary interest.

Furthermore, for him to represent Lockport Felt before the FTC is against the law.

This is spelled out in Title 18, Ch. 15, Sec. 203 of the U. S. Code, which states that it is illegal for any Congressman to perform any service, directly or indirectly, on behalf of a litigant with the government if the Congressman has a pecuniary interest in the matter. The penalty is not more than $10,000 fine and not more than two years imprisonment.

When Miller's connection with Lockport Felt was aired by Jack Anderson on Sept. 13, the Congressman alibied: "I am not now and never have been a stockholder in the Lockport Felt Co."

Miller also made it appear that he was merely helping a company doing business in his district. "As a Congressman I have consistently served the job-producing industries in my district, including Lockport Felt," he said.

Equivocating Congressman

But these statements, while reading well on paper, left out a lot of things. Here is what they left out:

1. Miller does own one share of stock in Lockport Felt.

2. His own financial statement, recently published, shows he owns $27,000 worth of stock in Lockport Holdings, a subsidiary.

3. Miller draws an annual salary from Lockport Felt of $7,500 as shown in his own financial statement.

4. Miller also got an income of $3,276.47 from his law firm, as shown in his 1963 tax returns. This was admitted by his own accountant, James Carnell, who described this as Miller's "equity" or "net gain" from the firm during the years.

Miller will, of course, argue that he did not violate Title 18, Ch. 15, Sec. 203 of the U. S. Code, because the representations before the FTC were by his law firm. However, Martindale and Hubbell, the lawyer directory, makes it clear that he was an active member of the law firm, in fact, its leading partner.

The firm of Miller, Farmelo, Adams and Stenger was formed in 1961, at a time when Farmelo and Adams had just retired from the U. S. Attorney's office at the end of the Eisenhower Administration, while Bill Miller had just become chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Miller's biography is spelled out in detail in the legal directory, with specific references to his election to Congress in 1951, his membership on the House Judiciary Committee and his election as chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1961. The biography has all the earmarks of wanting to attract business through political connections.

Thus, at the time Miller was interceding for Lockport Felt on the floor of Congress and through his law firm's letter to the Federal Trade Commission, the would-be Vice President was drawing a salary from the company he sought to help, income from his law firm, and had stock both in Lockport Felt and in its subsidiary.

Sherman Adams was forced out of the White House for operations which were "imprudent" but probably not as brazen.

Reapportionment

By Richard L. Worsnop

WASHINGTON — A recent decision by the Supreme Court on representation in state legislatures foreshadows revolutionary changes in American political life. By decreeing last June 15 that "the seats in both houses of a bicameral state legislature must be apportioned on a population basis," the Court appears to have sounded the death knell of rural control of state governments. Rural domination has persisted despite a growing concentration of population in urban areas.

Full application of the "one man, one vote" standard to state elections would transfer control of many legislatures to the cities and suburbs. Long-term results flowing from such a transfer may include a realignment of political power on both national and state levels, a strengthening of state governments, and reshaping of existing federal-state relationships.

Opposition to the Supreme Court's apportionment edict led to efforts in Congress to limit federal court jurisdiction of legislative districting cases. The House on Aug. 19 passed a bill introduced by Rep. William M. Tuck (D Va.) that would have stripped the Supreme Court and lower federal courts of all power to consider state reapportionment suits. The Senate rejected the Tuck bill, but it was tied up for 35 days by a filibuster on a rider to the foreign aid authorization bill.

Sponsored by the Senate's minority and majority leaders, Everett McKinley Dirksen (R Ill.) and Mike Mansfield (D Mont.), the rider would have deferred mandatory execution of court-ordered reapportionment until Jan. 1, 1966. In the end, a milder rider was approved; it merely declared it to be the sense of Congress that coming state legislative elections should be conducted under apportionment laws now in effect. However, it stated that if malapportioned legislatures did not redistrict themselves within six months of the start of their regular sessions, the federal courts should go ahead and do the job.

Although malapportionment of state legislatures from the standpoint of population has long been the rule rather than the exception, this has not always been the case. As Chief Justice Warren pointed out last June 15, the original constitutions of no fewer than 36 states required that legislative representation be based entirely, or almost entirely, on population. Today, the constitutions of only 24 states contain such requirements, and they have often been ignored.

Malapportionment commonly results from introduction of non-population factors into legislative districting formulas. The New Jersey senate, for example, is apportioned on a purely geographical basis; each county, whatever its size, has one senator. Another approach is to guarantee every county at least one seat in one or both legislative chambers, and to distribute the remaining seats on the basis of population. This approach pays only lip service to popular representation.

Incumbent legislators, intent on staying in office, are understandably reluctant to redraw the lines of their own districts. Reapportionment seems especially hazardous for urban legislators, whose constituents often consists mainly of members of one or another ethnic or racial minority group. A legislator accustomed to representing a predominantly Polish-American district might find re-election difficult in a newly drawn district containing a large number of Negro voters.

The final effects of reapportionment in accord with the "one man, one vote" principle are difficult to foresee. Many political scientists believe that the present urban-rural stalemate would be replaced by an urban-suburban conflict. This might happen because cities are deeply involved in urban renewal, public housing, welfare programs and school integration — problems that the suburbs rarely have to face and in which they have little interest.

It was long assumed that the Democrats would gain far more legislative seats than would the Republicans if reapportionment strictly on the basis of population were carried out in every state. Now there is some question whether this would actually happen. The predominantly Democratic big cities would win additional representation, but so would the traditionally Republican suburbs. Hence reapportionment might drastically alter the urban-rural balance of power in the legislature without substantially changing the relative strength of the two parties.

Unlucky 13 finally caught up with the LaSalle Explorers last night as their two-game win streak was snapped by the undefeated Bedford Bisons, 14-6, at Fort Hill stadium.

The loss was the second of the year for Paul Thompson's Explorers and ended a two-game unscored-on streak for the powerful North Centre Streeters. It was also the first time this year that LaSalle's game point total has figured out to number other than 13.

The superstition-defying Explorers had hoped to turn the tables on lady luck and make 13 points stand up for another victory, but the perditious Bisons, who averaged 37 points per game against three Pennsylvania opponents before last night's action, had other ideas.

Running from a single wing pattern and led by a solid forward wall, tailback John DeFabio bulldozed for almost 150 yards on the ground and scored a third period touchdown.

Bedford, overall, picked up a net ground yardage of 216. LaSalle, led by third-string quarterback Tom Kyhos towards the end of the second quarter and throughout the second half, gained 119 yards rushing and 82 yards through the airlanes.

Interception Helps

Getting a break on by a key pass interception on the part of Fred Burtnett, the Bisons marched 45 yards on five big plays in the first quarter for their first touchdown.

DeFabio, with an important 20 yard gallop, and wingback Joe Vent did the damage on this drive. Vent going over from seven yards out on an off-tackle run to the left with slightly more than four minutes remaining in the quarter.

Marching 62 yards on nine plays following the second-half kickoff, the Bisons widened their margain to 14-0. Southpaw Vent's 16-yard pass to DeFabio was the big play of the series, moving the ball to the 14. DeFabio went in for the six-pointer on a six-yard smash straight up the middle.

The Green Wave pass attack clicked in the fourth quarter, with Kyhos hitting on three of five attempts, one of his completions a seventeen-yard scoring strike to Joe Decker with five minutes left in the game.

Beautiful Catches

Saveleski made an almost unbelievable catch on a 33-yard pass from Kyhos during the 89-yard march to the end zone to turn in the play of the game. Almost as magnificant was Decker's catch near the flag marker on the right side of the field, for the score.

The aerial was made possible by one of Bill Maloney's many excellent blocks. Using this fine protection, Kyhos had plenty of time and heaved the seventeen-yarder. Decker caught the ball on the two-yard line and managed to cross the line just inside the flag.

Pat Flanagan, fuming over a close call on an incomplete pass late in the third quarter, carried for 26 yards and two first downs on the drive, as LaSalle did most of the damage running into the right side of the line.

The Bisons committed six fumbles, but were able to recover each one to keep LaSalle from gaining any ball-hawking advantage.

Wilt Hospitalized

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fears that Wilt Chamberlain might have a serious heart ailment were dispelled Friday, but the 7-foot-1 star of the San Francisco Warriors remained hospitalized for further tests.

A spokesman for the National Basketball Association club said an electrocardiogram examination did disclose a slight heart irregularity. It was, however, an irregularity Chamberlain has had since school days in Philadelphia.

Beall High of Frostburg battled Hampshire County High to a 6-6 tie last night at Romney in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

Both teams scored a second-period touchdown in the defensive battle, with fullback Doug Hott scoring on a three-yard run for Hampshire and Harry Smith tallied for Beall on a 30-yard scamper.

Hampshire's try for the extra point was off the mark, and Beall failed to score the decisive point after when defensive end Dwayne Coalbank blocked the kick.

John Hartman blocked a punt for Hampshire to set up the Trojan's touchdown march. Ray Bennett at middle guard and Roger Riggleman also turned in outstanding defensive efforts for the home team as they stopped a Beall High drive two feet away from the end zone.

Roger Keplinger did a fine job of running for Hampshire, whose record now stands at 3-1-1. Beall is 2-1-2 on the season.

The victory was the first for Northern in the series since 1957.

Coach Jack Lear's gridders scored touchdowns in the second and third periods and pushed over three scores in the final period.

In the second quarter, Danny Nicklow broke the ice for Northern by scoring on a 35-yard pass from George Edwards. The latter passed to Wilbur Hinebaugh for the point.

Edwards plunged over from the one for the Northern td in the third period then hit Hinebaugh with a pass for the conversion.

Roger Miller's pass interception and five-yard run produced the Huskies' third score and Gary Buckel dashed 11 yards for the fourth six-pointer. A pass from Edwards to Ohlen Umbel was good for the point. Buckel sprinted 15 yards for the final touchdown.

Southern's score came in the third period on a 20-yard run by Charles Davis.

The Highlanders suffered their fourth defeat against a single victory.

Cronin Sets Formula For Playoffs

Draw Is Announced In Case Of AL Ties

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Cronin, president of the American League, set up the formula Friday for playoffs in the event of a two-team or three-team tie for the pennant after the conclusion of the season Sunday.

Arrangements were made in a telephone conference among the three contenders and Cronin.

If two teams tie for first, they will meet in a best-of-three series starting Monday afternoon and continuing without a day off until it is completed. All games will start at 1:30 p.m. local time.

If Chicago and New York tie, the first game will be played at New York and the second and third, if necessary, at Chicago.

If Chicago and Baltimore tie, the first game would be at Baltimore and the rest in Chicago.

If New York and Baltimore tie, the first game would be played in Baltimore and the others in New York.

Call Shots By Phone

The order was determined when Bob Hoobing of The Associated Press and Dick Dew of United Press International drew the names out of a hat in Cronin's office. Ed Short of Chicago, Ralph Houk of New York and Lee MacPhail of Baltimore, the three club representatives, called the shots on the telephone.

In the event of a three-way tie a round-robin will be played with a club being eliminated when it has lost two games. This would run a minimum of four games and a maximum of five.

In Case Of 3-Way Tie

In the event of a three-way tie, the following schedule would be followed:

Oct. 5 Chicago at New York
Oct. 6 Baltimore at Chicago
Oct. 7 New York at Baltimre

The teams that have not been eliminated will play Oct. 8 with either New York at Chicago, Chicago at Baltimore or Baltimore at New York. If more than one is left after that they will play Oct. 9 in the home park of the club that has had fewer home games.

"Anything can happen," said Cronin. "We thought we ought to have a draw to alert the teams and their ticket offices to get ready for Monday. We thought of it last weekend but after the Yankees won and both the Orioles and White Sox lost we decided to wait. The Yankees' doubleheader loss Thursday made us decide to hold it now."

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Rafael Osuna of Mexico's Davis Cup team Friday eliminated Chuck McKinley, top U.S. internationalist, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2 in the mens' singles quarter-finals of Pacific Southwest tennis tournament.

McKinley's defeat eliminated the possibility of a four-man Davis Cup rematch with Australian stars Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle who along with Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., all won their quarter-final matches.

Colts And Rams Head 7 Sunday Games In NFL

60,000 To See Jets, Chargers Tonight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Buffalo Bills put their three-game winning streak on the line at Buffalo and the New York Jets expect a sellout crowd of close to 60,000 at Shea Stadium in two American Football League games Saturday night that open a busy weekend of pro football.

Buffalo faces the winless Oakland Raiders and the Jets take on the San Diego Chargers.

Colts Test Rams

Baltimore's high-scoring Colts test the surprising Los Angeles Rams and both defending National Football League conference champions, the Chicago Bears and New York Giants, take to the road with 1-2 records in a full seven-game Sunday program in the NFL. Two Sunday games in the AFL round out the slate.

The Rams may be without halfback Dick Bass, who has a shoulder separation, and defensive tackle Guy Reese is on the doubtful list for the Colts in the game at Baltimore.

Larry Morris, out after a leg operation, will miss the Bears' game at San Francisco and the doubtful, include Mike Pyle, Ed O'Bradovich, Bill George, Joe Fortunato and Charley Bivins. The 49ers will be without J.D. Smith for the second straight week.

The Giants will have Y.A. Tittle ready for full-time duty at Detroit, at least until Roger Brown and Alex Karras start working him over. The Lions came out of Monday's game with Green Bay in good physical condition.

Vikings Tackle Packers

Bart Starr is supposed to be ready despite an aggravation of an old injury to his left shoulder, and will be in there pitching for the Packers against the Vikings at Green Bay. Minnesota probably won't have running star Tommy Mason, who injured his elbow last week.

Washington is due to get back four players who missed the Giant game, for their home game with the St. Louis Cardinals. Don Bosseler, Rod Breedlove, Angelo Coia and Bob Pellegrini are due to play. The Cards, still unbeaten but once-tied, are healthy.

Don Meredith of Dallas has a banged-up ankle and knee but is due to see some action when the Cowboys invade Cleveland to face the unbeaten Browns. Defensive tackle Frank Parker of the Browns probably will miss his second straight game but offensive tackle John Brown is due back. Nothing wrong with Jim Brown.

Joe Kuharich will be meeting his old coaching pal, Buddy Parker, when the Eagles entertain Pittsburgh at Philadelphia. Kuharich has three injured Eagles — Ray Poage, Bob Brown and Earl Gros — but he counts on them to play.

Buffalo has rookie Joe Auer running as fullback Cookie Gilchrist's partner with Wary Carlton sidelined, but the Bills will miss their rookie tackle, Tom Keating, out for the season. Oakland, hungry after their straight defeats looking for Clem Daniels to explode.

San Diego hopes to get Lance Alworth, Paul Lowe and Ernie Ladd back in time for the joust with the Jets, who lead the league in defense but are 1-1 in the standings.

Chiefs Host Oilers

Houston helps Kansas City open its home season Sunday in a game billed as a battle between Sid Blanks, the Oilers' hot rookie, and Abner Haynes of the Chiefs. Chris Burford's return helps the Chiefs.

Boston, winner of three straight, faces Denver, which has yet to win. The Sunday game at Denver will find the Pats blitzing while the Broncs try to get their faltering offense in motion.

Keyser Plays At Allegany, Bobcats At Home With MJC

Valley High Hosts Virginians Today; Potomac Hosts Rams

Coach Ed Schwarz's Allegany High School Campers will entertain Keyser High School here tonight while Frostburg State's Bobcats and the Potomac State College Catamounts are carded to play Saturday afternoon games at home.

Allegany opened its season with a 52-8 win over Bruce, suffered a 13-7 setback at the hands of Martinsburg's Bulldogs and eked out a 20-18 decision over the Hubs of North Hagerstown.

Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado is playing .500 ball to date, having whipped Charles Town, 19-10 and Ridgeley 21-18 while losing to Martinsburg 26-0 and LaSalle 13-0.

The outcome of this game is being watched with interest by LaSalle as the Explorers tackle Allegany on October 16 in the second intra-city game of the season. LaSalle lost the opener to Fort Hill, 28-13 and shut out Keyser.

Halfback Barry Bruce, of Allegany, who suffered a broken blood vessel in his knee while practicing before the Martinsburg game, is expected to return to action tonight, according to Coach Schwarz. Bruce was running for a pass when he turned his knee.

Virginians At Valley

Valley High School's Black Knights play their second game of the season at home today at 1:30 when they tackle Loudoun Valley High of Purcelleville, Va.

Both teams will be angling for their initial wins of the campaign. Valley, playing its first year of football, lost to Northern and Beall. The Virginians, who beat Bruce High, 33-7 and 7-0 in 1962 and 1963, own an 0-2-1 record for the current season.

Frostburg State, victorious in its first two starts away from home, plays its first game of the season at Frostburg today at 2 p.m., with Montgomery Junior College of Silver Spring, Md., providing the opposition. The Bobcats have trimmed Gallaudet, 34-12, and Bridgewater (Mass.) 34-0, and as they play their fourth straight season under Coach Ron Van Ryswyk they've won 3 and lost 13. Montgomery is also unbeaten and owns a 2-0 record. The schools will be meeting for the first time.

Rams Invade Keyser

Potomac State's opponent today at Stayman Field will be Jesse Riggleman's Shepherd Rams who have won eight consecutive games from Coach "Horse" Lough's teams yet trail in their all-time series, 12 to 22 with three games even. Potomac's last win was in 1954 and the score was 13-7. The Rams copped the 1963 game, 21-12.

The Catamounts (0-1-1) and the Rams (0-2) will be striving for their first win today.

In other Saturday afternoon action, West Virginia School for the Deaf (0-1-2) hosts Harpers Ferry High School and Boonsboro High tackles Hancock High at the latter place.

Bullets Lose To 76ers In Benefit Game, 107-104

Professional basketball made its debut last night in Cumberland as the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Baltimore Bullets 107-104.

A disappointing turnout of about a thousand people witnessed the game presented on behalf of the Bishop Walsh High School, as the 76ers pulled ahead in the third quarter and then hung on at the end to eke out victory.

The Bullets led after the first quarter, mainly on the timely shooting of Bailey Howell. But the second quarter saw the Bullets lose the lead as the Dolph Schayes - coached Philadelphians put on a rugged full court press. Ben Warley tied the score at thirty-nine all with a free throw. After the lead exchanged hands twice Warley's free throw with one minute left in the half sent the 76ers ahead.

After intermission Walt Bellamy hit a field goal and two free throws to vault the Bullets into a 51-48 lead. Then Al Bianchi hit two straight baskets to even the score.

The lead then changed hands three times before Chet Walker hit a jump shot that gave the 76ers a lead they were never to relinquish.

In the torrid third quarter, Bianchi hit for all fourteen of his points and Walker hit for twelve. These hot hands, coupled with some cold shooting on the part of the Bullets gave the 76ers a ten-point edge at the end of three quarters.

The only time the Bullets challenged the Philadelphians for the lead was in the last minute of the game when they pulled to within three points. However, timely steals by Ira Harge and Larry Costello preserved the victory.

Bailey Howell, the ex-Piston, was the game's high scorer with 22 points. Walt Bellamy chipped in with nineteen for the losers. Chet Walker led the 76ers with 16 points.

French Women Golfers Hold 2-Stroke Edge

PARIS (AP) — Catherine Lacoste, France's 19-year-old star, just missed tying her own record at St. Germain Friday and paced the French team into a two-stroke lead over the United States in the first Women's World Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Lacoste, daughter of old-time tennis star Rene Lacoste, shot a one-under-par 71 over the 5,993-yard St. Germain course. She missed an 18-inch putt on the 18th green that would have given her a tie with her own course record of 70.

Her 71 with a 75 by Claudine Cros gave the French team a 146 total for the day and a 293 score for te first two rounds of the 72-hole competition. The United States had 147 Friday and a total of 295. Great Britain was third with 297.

Mt. Savage Booters Nose Out Valley In WMI Opener, 2-1

Birmingham's Goal Decides; Beall High Routs Aggies, 13-0

Mt. Savage High School's Indians celebrated the debut of Bob Kirk as their new coach by defeating the Valley High School Black Knights, defending champions, by the score of 2-1 yesterday in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League opener at Lonaconing.

In the other lid-lifter Friday at Flintstone, Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Beall High School Mountaineers trounced the Flintstone High Aggies to the tune of 13-0.

The new rule which changes the value of a field goal to two points instead of one helped Mt. Savage High get off on a winning note.

Two-Pointer Decides

Sam Turnbull booted a penalty goal to give Valley a 1-0 edge in the second period. Minutes later, however, Larry Birmingham scored a two-point goal from just inside the penalty area.

Outstanding players for Coach Kirk's eleven were Fullback Colin Kennell, halfback Bill Johnson, center forward Darrell Blank and Goalie Often. Leading the way for Valley were fullback Keith Kiddy, halfback Kenny Lancaster and forwards Sam Turnbull and Franklin Miller.

Beall scored in every period in running roughshod over the Aggies.

Price Boots Pair

Nigel Price accounted for two of the Mountaineers' five field goals and John Kerch, Robert Gomer and Dennis Pressman, a substitute, had one field goal each. Ronnie Ware, Beall inside right, kicked three penalty goals.

Beall substituted freely in the last five minutes of play.

League games Tuesday, October 6, are Valley at Bruce and Beall at Mt. Savage.

Bishop Guilfoyle High School scored touchdowns in the first, second and third periods to chalk up a 25-0 victory over Bruce High School of Westernport in the first meeting of the schools on the gridiron Friday night at Altoona, Pa.

The setback was the second against a win and a tie for Coach Pete Ladygo's Bulldogs who play their first night game at home next Friday with Beall High School.

A pass interception by Pete Roscia on the Bruce 15 set up the initial Altoona score in the first period. Ray Hipp capped the 45-yard drive by scampering over from the 7. In the second period, the Marauders marched 50 yards in 10 plays for their second td which was scored by Joe Zangrilli on a 6-yard pass from Pete Shute. Zangrilli ran the point to give the home team a 13-0 lead at intermission.

Bishop Guilfoyle scored a pair of touchdowns in the final period. The first one came on a 30-yard dash by Hipp while the second was a 14-yard run by Don Seemiller. The final drive started on the Altoona 36 and 10 plays later the Marauders scored.

The biggest gain credited to a Bruce player came on the first play of the game when Morris Pamepinto ran 20 yards. Dave Shaw, Bruce's third string fullback, made several nice gains late in the game.

The Bulldogs marched 56 yards to the Altoona 30 in the third period but there the drive bogged down.

Tom Moran, Tom Duckworth, Dave Imperio and Greg Sarfino were outstanding on defense for Bruce High.

Rain fell throughout the game which was played on a soggy field.

Score by periods:

Bruce	0	0	0	0	—0

Touchdowns: Altoona—Ray Hipp 2 (7 and 30 yard runs); John Zangrilli (6 yard pass from Pete Shute); Don Seemiller (14-yard run).

Yankees' Win Puts Orioles Out Of Running

Brooks Robinson Continues Bid For MVP Award

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles crushed the Detroit Tigers 10-4 Friday night but were eliminated from the American League pennant race as the first-place New York Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians.

The night's action left Baltimore 2½ games behind the Yanks. The Orioles have one game remaining and the Yanks two.

Brooks Robinson, in a strong closing bid to become the league's most valuable player, knocked in four runs while banging out his 28th homer and two singles.

The four RBI increased Robinson's league leading total to 117, and his batting average jumped to .317 — only six points behind league leader Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins.

Bases Loaded Double

Jerry Adair drove in three Oriole runs with a bases-loaded double during a six-run second inning off loser Joe Sparma.

Earlier in the inning, a fly ball by Jack Brandt was lost in the heavy fog and it fell for a run-scoring double. Detroit scored a run in the second when Bill Freehan's fly also was lost in the fog.

Freehan singled home two more runs in the fourth and pinch hitter Don Demeter homered in the fifth.

Robin Roberts, with relief help from Harvey Haddix over the last four innings, won his 13th game of the season and the 271st of his major league career.

Roberts moved ahead of Burleigh Grimes into 17th place on the all-time list of winners. Grimes, now an Oriole scout, watched the game from the press box.

Chuvalo Stops Jones In 11th

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bull-shouldered George Chuvalo of Toronto staged a major upset Friday night by flooring Doug Jones of New York once and winning a technical knockout in the 11th round of their heavyweight elimination fight at Madison Square Garden.

In the Garden's first fight of its new no-television era, Chuvalo floored the higher-rated Jones with a left hook in the 11th round. Jones rose groggily to his feet at the count of five and took the remaining three counts of the manadatory "eight" on his feet.

Chuvalo immediately harraged him with smashes to the head and knocked him against the corner ropes. A left-right to the head sent Jones staggering sideways groggily, and at that instant referee Arthur Mercante intervened and stopped the fight at 1:28 of the 11th.

It was the first time in the 27-year-old Jones' career of 31 fights that he had been knocked out.

Frostburg At Hyndman For Title Game Sunday

Series Rubber Tilt To Windup 16th Pen-Mar League Season

Frostburg and Hyndman will be gunning for their second playoff title in the Pen-Mar Baseball League when they collide Sunday at 2:30 p.m., at Hyndman in the third and deciding game of their series.

Hyndman won in 1959 and Frostburg copped the 1961 playoff crown. Barrelville had captured the post-season title six times in the past 15 years — 1949, 1954, 1956, 1957, 1959 and 1960.

Hyndman forced series to the limit last Sunday by scoring 10 runs in the 6th inning Sunday by scoring 10 runs in the 6th inning for a 10-4 victory and luckily won the toss for the "rubber" game. Frostburg copped the opener, 5-3.

Tomorrow's game is the 7th meeting of the teams with Frostburg holding a 4-2 edge in wins. Frostburg won the pennant with a 19-9 record and eliminated the Cumberland Hermans, 5-2 and 12-7 in the playoff semi-finals. Hyndman beat Mt. Savage, 2-1, in a playoff game for 4th place, and then won two out of three games from Hyndman.

Vohn Lehman (12-5) is slated to hurl for Hyndman while John Keister (14-2) will likely toil on the firing line for "Tuffy" Sullivan's beauties. Lehman, incidentally, owns a winning streak of four games in the playoffs.

The Sunday contest will officially close the 1964 baseball season in the tri-state area.

Arfons Sets Speed Mark

"Wingfoot Express" Clocked At 413 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Walt Arfons' jet-powered car, the "Wingfoot Express," broke a world speed record Friday with a clocking of 413.20 miles per hour on these western Utah salt flats.

The mark of 407.65 m.p.h. was set last year on the flats by Craig Breedlove, also in a jet-powered car.

Tom Green of Wheaton, Ill., drove the Arfons' designed car that averaged 415.09 m.p.h. over a distance of one kilometer and 413.20 m.p.h. over the distance of one mile.

Breedlove's 407.65 was over the one-mile distance.

The cars are timed going and coming over the route.

Green's first run over the mile was 406.55 m.p.h. On the return it was 420.07.

Herman Named Bosox Manager

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox summarily ended a two year managerial youth movement Friday when they fired manager John Pesky and replaced him with veteran third base coach Billy Herman.

The Red Sox said the decision to replace their former infield star was made last Saturday—the day before Pesky's 45th birthday, and that Herman was the only candidate considered.

Herman, 55, took over the eighth place Red Sox immediately and said he would name his new coaches within the next three days. Though he didn't say so, none of the remaining three Boston coaches was expected to be retained.

Maryland Harriers Defeat Virginia

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland's cross country team opened its season Friday with an overwhelming 19-40 victory over Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference meet.

George Henry of the Terps led the way over the rain-soaked four-mile course with a winning time of 20 minutes, 11 seconds. Keith Allen of Virginia was second in 20:23, followed by six more Maryland runners.

Five of the first six Terps to finish were sophomores.

Senior halfback John Fields, a transfer from Romney High School, went on a scoring rampage Friday and sparked Coach George Hott's Moorefield High School Yellowjackets to a 30-7 decision over the Franklin Panthers in a Potomac Valley Conference grid game and Franklin.

The win gave the Hardy Countians a 3-1 record in the conference. Franklin absorbed its fourth defeat against one tie game.

Fields scored four touchdowns and upped his point total to 48 in four conference engagements. He tallied on a 30-yard pass from Leroy Redman, scored twice on 55-yard gallops and another time on a 45-yard sprint. Redman fired a 30-yard pass to Orville Eye for Moorefield's other six-pointer.

Harvey Eye averted a shutout for Franklin when he scored from the six in the final period. Billy Adamson kicked the extra point.

Bowling Green Sewage Plant Is Milestone

Uniqueness Stressed At Opening Event

About 75 interested citizens of Allegany County were on hand yesterday afternoon when the first sewage treatment plant constructed in an unincorporated community along the Potomac River in Maryland was opened officially at Bowling Green.

The uniqueness of this sewage treatment plant, which will serve some 618 homes in Bowling Green, Roberts Place and Potomac Park, was stressed by Playford Aldridge, chairman of the Allegany County Sanitary Commission.

A system of collecting sewers has been installed in the three adjacent communities along McMullen Highway just beyond the Dingle Hill and about 500 of the homes have been connected to the sewage treatment plant since Tuesday.

$840,000 Bond Issue

The local share of the cost of this project for a cleaner Potomac River is being financed by an $840,000 bond issue of the Sanitary Commission. State and federal governments are providing another $375,000.

The state's share is $125,000, while $250,000 is coming from the federal government. Federal money includes a $125,000 water pollution control grant from the United States Public Health Service and another $125,000 under the accelerated public works program.

Mr. Aldridge took the occasion yesterday to praise U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, who was instrumental in obtaining the federal funds for the treatment plant. Senator Beall, who was present for yesterday's ceremonies, also has helped the sanitary commission to obtain planning funds for Bowling Green and Cresaptown.

First In Series

The chairman of the sanitary commission noted that this Bowling Green sewage treatment plant is only the first in a series of improvements planned in Allegany County.

"The Allegany County Sanitary Commission is now beginning construction of a sewage treatment facility for the Cresaptown Santiary District, we have the Braddock Run Santiary District and the Bedford Road Sanitary District either in the plans and design stage or are about to place them in that stage," Mr. Aldridge said.

"Work is progressing toward the formation of a district for Corriganville and Ellerslie, and we have petitions from several other localities under consideration," he continued.

"To the people of Allegany County, this treatment plant represents the first progressive step to rid the county of a serious health hazard which has plagued the county for years and it is a forward step in making Allegany County a better place in which to live, so that we can make the county more attractive to outside industry and thereby enable the employment of many of our youth who are now required to migrate from the county in order to find employment," Mr. Aldridge said.

District Created In 1961

The chairman also noted that the commission was created in December 1961 by the former Board of County Commissioners which included members of both political parties. The present commissioners, Republicans Louis V. Shinnamon, Robert Little Ebert and Russell H. Carder, all were present for yesterday's opening. Two former county commissioners, John J. Rowan and John T. Mason, both Democrats, who participated with Mr. Shinnamon in the creation of the sanitary commission, also were pres-

Ridgeley's Football Queen

Judy Barnes manages a smile as she is crowned Ridgeley High School Football Queen midway through the team's 53-0 drubbing yesterday by Petersburg. Her attendants in the halftime ceremony are Monna White and Debbie Weaver, and she is receiving her crown from Woody Dodrill, a senior back for the Ridgeley team.

City's Tax Deadline Is Wednesday

The rush to pay 1964 city taxes failed to materialize this week but the day of reckoning is approaching and lines are expected to begin forming at City Hall Monday.

Next Wednesday will be the last day to pay city taxes at par, and any payments made after Wednesday will be subject to interest.

Interest on city taxes is charged at the rate of ½ per cent a month, but the first month's interest will amount to one per cent, since the interest will date back to August 7, the day the levy was set.

Those who make partial payments will escape part of the penalty, since only the unpaid balance will be subject to interest.

The collection picture appeared to be only fair yesterday, when about $64,000 was taken in during a slow day.

This brought collections to $749,860, or slightly more than half of the $1,392,630 levy.

Actually, the next three days will make a big dent in the uncollected taxes.

For one thing, staffers at the collector's office had time yesterday, when collections were slow, to just about catch up on mail which had been piling up when they were waiting on customers.

Another factor is that several corporations which pay a sizable part of the city's tax bill are expected to send in their payments next week, since the 30 days allowed for payments are about up.

Local 26 To Vote On Contract Change

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 1 p.m. in the union hall, according to Alva C. Lewis, president.

The meeting was called to accept or reject a proposed contract change pertaining to extensive training.

Company and union negotiators have been discussing the issue for some time.

Jury Decides Man Injured While At Work

After deliberating for more than three-and-one-half hours yesterday afternoon and last night, an Allegany County Circuit Court jury reversed a decision of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission and decided that a Piedmont man sustained an accidental personal injury arising out and in the course of his employment at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company mill in Luke.

James Henry Garland, 33 Water Street, Piedmont, filed an appeal in Circuit Court after Commissioner Francis J. Valle decided January 23 that Garland did not sustain an accidental personal injury arising out of and in the course of his employment at the Luke mill.

John V. Lindner was foreman of the jury of eight men and four women which began its deliberation about 4:30 p.m. Finally, at 8:05 p.m. the 12 jurors came back to the court room with answers for the four issues.

The first issue decided affirmatively was that he had sustained an accidental personal injury arising out of and in the course of his employment. On the second issue, the jurors also decided that Mr. Garland's disability was the result of an accidental personal injury he received at the mill last November 22.

Furthermore, the jurors decided that the Piedmont man no longer is totally disabled and they ruled that his temporary total disability ended March 1. He has not worked since last November.

The Piedmont man was represented by Attorneys Simon F. Reilly and Milton Gerson. Attorney for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton presided at the long trial.

Unit To Perform

The Allegany High School Arrowettes drill team plans to perform this evening during the Allegany-Keyser football game at Greenway Stadium.

City Action On Building Case Begins

Action on nine charges placed by the Mayor and Council against the owner of a property at 890 Sperry Terrace began yesterday in Police Court.

Clarence Lippel, local attorney, appeared for Joseph H. Reinhart, 17 Baltimore Street, before Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt and asked that his appearance be entered in the case.

A date for a hearing will be set by the magistrate.

Mr. Lippel noted that all tenants remaining in the apartment building have been given notice to vacate and that his clients have been in touch with an exterminator to see if the firm can eliminate roaches in the building without spreading them throughout the neighborhood.

Hugh A. McMullen, city attorney, agreed to a continuance of the case to give the owner an opportunity to remedy the situation.

The City of Cumberland filed nine charges involving the city's health and hygiene of housing ordinances on September 25.

The action was taken on orders of the Board of Health of the City of Cumberland the day before.

Veteran Kelly Worker Retired

Thomas U. Buser, 540 Eastern Avenue, who helped build the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant and has worked in it ever since, has retired so he can spend more time fishing and hunting.

Mr. Buser, now 62, worked for contractors building the plant when he was 18 years old. In 1922 he began work as a heaterman in the curing room of the plant.

During World War II Mr. Buser worked on the ammunition production line at Kelly-Springfield, and returned to tire work at the end of the war.

Except for the war years, he spent his entire time at Kelly in the curing room. Last February he completed 42 years of service with the company.

He also takes pride in the fact that he is a charter member of Local 26, United Rubber Workers, the union representing Kelly production workers.

His wife is the former Reba Idella Fetters, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fetters of Flintstone. They have two sons, Theodore U. Buser of Short Gap, a Kelly employe, and Thomas Paul Buser, who lives in Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and teaches school in Hancock. The Busers also have four grandchildren.

Local CAP To Participate In Weekend Air Exercise

Will Help Test Airlift Capability

Members of Cumberland Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will take part today and tomorrow in a massive airlift capability test throughout the Eastern and Southern United States.

The exercise, called "Airlift Survival East and South 1964," is sponsored in Maryland by the state civil defense agency, the CAP, the State Aviation Commission, the Federal Aviation Agency, the Air Force Reserve and the aviation industry.

It presumes that a mythical nuclear attack 10 days ago has practically destroyed public transportation. People are coming out of their hypothetical shelters and emergency transportation is needed.

The largest peacetime civil aviation airlift in history, the operation today and tomorrow will involve more than 2,500 aircraft. All states east of the Mississippi are included except Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana.

Local pilots who are interested in participating, whether or not they are CAP members, are invited to report to Municipal Airport no later than 10 a.m. today. The Air Force will reimburse them for gas and oil costs incurred in the exercise.

Local volunteers will fly to Frederick, which will be a base station for the operation. Their first mission out of Frederick is scheduled for 11 a.m.

More than 75 missions have been designated by the Maryland Civil Defense Agency for aircraft in this state. Some missions will involve flying waiting passengers or packages to more than one airport.

If weather interrupts the air portion of the operation, the communications exercise will be continued.

At least two Cumberland-based airplanes will be taking part, including the Aeronca L-16 which is in the process of being assigned to the Cumberland squadron.

Capt. Richard Cody, commanding officer of the 20-member senior squadron here, is in charge of local CAP arrangements.

Several activities also are planned in West Virginia, and Elkins will be a major base, with about 11 CAP aircraft available.

Mathias Says Hanson Wrong On His Record

Strikes Back At 'Myth' Leaflet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., called a news conference Friday to pass out to reporters what he titled "The Mathias Report" in reply to accusations made by his Democratic opponent.

Mathias said his opponent, Royce Hanson, had been "outright wrong" in several instances.

Hanson, an American University political science professor, seeking to unseat the two-term Mathias in the 6th Maryland District, had listed what he said was Mathias' position on various issues in a campaign document which he called "Mac The Myth" sheet.

Mathias said he voted for the tax cut bill, the water pollution control measure, the minimum wage bill and the library services act and that he voted to set up the area redevelopment program but was against proposed expansion of this program because he thought the money was not being used entirely in depressed areas.

Mathias said there has been no change in his position concerning Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

In early August, Mathias said in a statement, without naming Goldwater, that he would support all Republican nominees.

He said today he believes it is his responsibility to work within the party for the things he believes to be right. "I belive my effectiveness would be reduced by leaving the party," he said.

Mathias said "I am not a shirttail candidate. I am running on my own record."

"The Mathias Report" on his four years in congress runs 30 pages.

Msgr. Kilkenny Will Probated

The will of Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church here for 17 years at the time of his death September 15, was probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Msgr. Kilkenny, who was 72 at the time of his death, remembered a number of Catholic and charitable organizations in his last testament which was dated August 27, 1962.

Cash bequests were made to the Jesuit Seminary Fund, the Little Sisters of the Poor in Baltimore, Mercy Hospital in Baltimore, St. Vincent de Paul Society, the League for Crippled Children in Cumberland, the Cancer Fund of Allegany County and to the pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Texas, Maryland. There also were cash bequests to all first cousin.

The remainder of his estate, after all of the special bequests, was divided three ways. One third was left to Mercy Hospital in Baltimore, where he died, to furnish two hospital rooms in memory of the Kilkenny family. Another third was left to the College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Inc., in Baltimore for a scholarship to one girl graduate of Catholic Girls Central High School in Cumberland. The other third was left to the Society of St. Sulpice Provincial House for the education of the first young man to apply to the priesthood who may be related to him.

William D. Gentry and Thomas J. Grogan Jr., both of Baltimore, qualified as executors of the estate under a $1,000 bond.

Participate In Treatment Plant's Opening

These 12 persons were pleased yesterday afternoon when the new Bowling Green sewage treatment plant was placed in operation. In the first row, left to right, are County Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon, Playford Aldridge, chairman of the County Sanitary Commission; U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, Mrs. Colleen Humbertson, office secretary to the sanitary commission; Alvin R. Rankin, member of the sanitary commission, and Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the sanitary commission. Back row, same order, are Leonard M. Glass, project engineer; Russell G. Robeson and George K. Steiner, both members of the sanitary commission; Robert Little Ebert and Russell H. Carder, county commissioners, and Robert Reinhard, sanitary commission.

To Be Dedicated

This new church building of Bedford Road Baptist Church will be dedicated in ceremonies at 3 p.m. tomorrow by Rev. Dr. Roy D. Gresham, executive secretary-treasurer of the Baptist Convention of Maryland and first vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention. Former pastors of the church, which was a mission of Second Baptist Church until a few years ago, will participate.

THE SCENE SHIFTS — There's a laugh somewhere in this striking scene outside the Casino East Theater in New York's Greenwich Village where 'This Was Burlesque' was having its 1,278th performance. Ann Corio, stripper extraordinary, (white gloves) and co-sponsor of the show hangs on to stagehand Andrew Tract, representing the stagehands union, amid peals of laughter from members of the cast. The stagehands went on strike; Ann upstaged them; they talked and laughed and the strike was over.

Meet The Robert Goulets

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Handsome actor Robert Goulet 31, thinks marriage could be happier for men, if they'd throw their wives a few compliments once in a while.

He has just celebrated the first anniversary of his marriage to actress Carol Lawrence.

"When Carol cooks, I tell her she's done a good job. She is a magnificent cook and really enjoys it. No woman wants to slave over a hot stove and then hear grunts from her husband," he says. "Everyone enjoys praise when they've earned it. A wife is no exception."

It's silly that men spend so much time courting and making that big final decision, and then risk a marriage failure because they can't be generous with praise, he says.

Women Must Understand

"Women are more lavish with their love and require more assurance than men suspect. Carol loves me in a different way from the way I love her. She either loves or doesn't love, and she doesn't love many people. She loves me with all of herself although I have a tendency to hold back. I wish that I didn't. But that's my capacity of love, though I imagine I love her as much as I could love anyone in the world.

"Men have responsibilities, such as their work, and they'd be useless without it, and women must understand their preoccupation with it," he contends.

The popular entertainment personality claims he has a terrible temper, which he tries to control.

Carol's Smart

"Men do not look for brains in a woman all they see is the light in their eyes," he says. Still he is proud that Carol is terribly intelligent with a magnificent I.Q., something like 160.

"She didn't like me backstage in a show we played together. Somebody had advised her to 'stay away from that one,' meaning I was staying out until the we hours. But when we worked together, we discovered we had empathy," he recalls.

Goulet, a gay dashing fellow, with mischievous blue eyes full of fun has the spirited ebullience reminiscent of the late Errol Flynn. At present he is wearing a beard which adds to his rakish manner.

In the comedy "I'd Rather Be Right," he played practical jokes on Andy Williams, his rival for the hand of Sandra Dee in the movie. In cutting up, he was just doing what comes naturally. He is also health-conscious.

Changes Made

"Carol likes to cook with pounds of butter, but I've told her it will clog my arteries, and I'll be dead at 40. Now we eat more low-calorie foods cooked without grease."

He does isometric exercises, the tension type, for his back, arms, stomach, legs, and walks and swims a lot.

The parents-to-be, live in a big house on 33 acres in Bedford Village, New York. They also have an apartment in New York. There Carol removed some kitchen cabinets without telling him.

"Women who's been on their own sometimes forget after marriage that major changes in the atmosphere of a home should be planned with their husbands. Carol and I have prospects for a great marriage but we are still learning to live together."

Goulet, a baritone, was born in Lawrence, Mass., where his parents worked in textile mills.

TV CAMEOS: Gig Young

It's Show-Plugging Time For Networks' Stars

By ED MISURELL

This is the time of season when video performers, like locusts, descend en masse upon cities like New York. Unlike locusts, however, they are not out to destroy crops. Their peregrinations are aimed principally at building up the crop of new shows bursting out all over the TV networks.

Included in this year's mass migration eastward was Gig Young. And as he sat recently in an office in NBC's east coast headquarters he looked as though he wished he were back on the west coast working in his new series, "The Rogues," along with David Niven, Charles Boyer, Gladys Cooper and Robert Coote.

The handsome actor's eyes were ringed with fatigue and he slumped in a chair as he lit a cigarette and puffed deeply. The seemingly endless round of press interviews and appearances on afternoon and evening TV shows were beginning to take their toll.

"It's been hectic — up early and late," he said tiredly. "Fortunately I'm only on the New York agenda." But his eyes brightened a bit and enthusiasm crept back into his voice as he mentioned his co-stars and his role as Tony Fleming, the American member of an international family of swindlers who dupe the rich and donate to the poor.

"We don't give all the loot away," smiled Young. "After all, to give all your property away would be rather silly, don't you think?"

Stepping out of his TV characterization, Young explained why he was high on "The Rogues." "This is a prestige group and I feel fortunate to be working with them," he said, "and a lot of dough is being spent to bring this series to the air. The sets — palatial villas, jet-set beaches, rich gaming casinos—are more along the type seen in top-flight movies than on TV.

"We've completed about a dozen, hour-long shows already and I can assure you the scripts are excellent. The executive writers have a number of these on hand in advance, but they continue to improve upon them and rewrite up to the time of filming and sometimes during the actual shooting of the shows to make certain that they are top grade."

The leads, according to Young, will alternate weekly. "If one of us is not on hand in the key role," he said, "he'll be around to help the others pull a caper."

Although "The Rogues" is his first TV series, Young has had a long career in show business. Born Byron Barr in St. Cloud, Minn., he moved with his parents to Washington, D.C., when he was about three.

He became interested in dramatics in high school and won a scholarship to the Pasadena Playhouse in California, where he was spotted and signed to a contract by Warner Brothers. His first big role was in "The Gay Sisters" with Barbara Stanwyck. The name of the character he played, Gig Young, made a hit with preview audiences and he adopted it professionally.

Before coming to "The Rogues," Young had racked up a long list of TV credits. "Most of the work I've done in this medium has been on live shows out of New York and later on the west coast," he said. Working in TV, either live or on film is, in a way, more interesting. It has a much faster pace. This is stimulating."

Unlike some actors, Young has no ambitions to direct or produce shows. "I find it hard enough to do one job well," he smiled.

Judging by the public reception he's enjoyed through the years, sticking to that particular last has paid off well for him.

AbbeyPlayers PostponeTour For America

DUBLIN (AP)—A buiding delay here is forcing another postponement of an American tour for the Abbey Players.

Completion of a new theater for the company has been pushed over from December until next May by a workmen's strike. The previous Abbey was destroyed by fire several years ago.

The troupe, which made its last visit to the U. S. in 1937, originally was scheduled for an overseas tour last year, then during the present season.

'Henry Orient' Scheduled For N. Y. Stage

NEW YORK (AP)—A musical stage version of "The World of Henry Orient," recent film hit, is being planned for Broadway exhibit during the winter of 1965.

Nunnally Johnson, who prepared the screenplay with his daughter, Nora, is to do the book, and Bob Merrill is lined up for music and lyrics. George Roy Hill, who directed the screen version, starring Peter Sellers, is to supervise the staging.

Asylums Used As Play Theme

NEW YORK (AP)—As a locale for drama, the lunatic asylum is having a flurry of popularity among playwrights.

Two Broadway exhibits this season are set in mental institutions. Arriving first is "The Physicists" by Frederich Duerrenmatt. Slated later is Peter Weiss' "The Persecution and Assassination of Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton Under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade."

Last season, the madhouse trend began with "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Shows Planned For Olympics

TOKYO (AP)—A special splurge of theatrical events is being arranged here in connection with the Olympic games in October.

Four playhouses have added late-hour performances to their schedules for the period, and one the Kabuki Theater, is arranging a special program that will highlight drama excerpts to apeal to spectators unfamiliar with the intricacies of Japanese theatrical tradition.

Russian Players Do Double Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Russian-born players are doing double duty in "The Passion of Josef D.," Paddy Chayefsky's drama about the early career of Stalin.

The couple, Nicholas Saunders and Gedda Petry, his wife, provide the correct pronunciations of Muscovite names and places that pepper the script.

When off-stage, Saunders is busy as a newscaster-announcer for Radio Liberty, which beams western-world opinion into the Soviet Union.

TV FIRST! — Cinemactress Janet Leigh, long-time holdout from the small screen will do double duty this week, making her TV dramatic debut on Chrysler Theater and doing a guest shot on the Andy Williams Show.

Star Of Musical Letter "Target"

NEW YORK (AP) Carol Channing is all for romance but is beginning to wish so many newlyweds weren't intent on making "Hello, Dolly!" part of their honeymoon trips.

The star of the Broadway musical says that about 15 requests arrive in her mail each week from couples who want her help to get tickets. Other long-distance pleas have been received from a Peace Corps member in Kenya, six fliers in South Viet Nam and a Buenos Aires rancher who sent a check to buy tickets for a performance in 1965.

Puerto Rico Has Theatre Upswing

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Theatrical activity is on the increase in Puerto Rico among professional, semipro and native groups.

A theater arts season is being planned by two organizations and another project is an eight-play festival in the Old San Juan section of the capital. Increasing tourism is credited with spurring most of the activity.

Places to Go— Things to do—

Alps Ideal For Sports Vacation

Are you traveling more and enjoying it less? Maybe a vacation theme will add more zest to your holiday. Ever tried a sporting spree? Think it over. Think lazy—and enjoy an occasional game of golf, some sailing, hunting or riding. Think strenuous — and there's mountain climbing, tennis and other games calling for speed or endurance. Think canny—and there are adventurous sports such as gliding.

The Alpine area is a likely place for a sports holiday because there is such diversity in this European heartland. The seven countries sharing the Alps—Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Monaco, Switzerland and Yugoslavia — have developed every sport known to man. Europe's holiday heartland for centuries, the Alps offer just the sport you prefer—plus all the amenities for effortless travel.

If water is your element, Mediterranean Monaco is the place to start. A Riviera yachting center, Monaco is an ideal port for chartering a pleasure craft or fishing boat. Power cruisers can also be hired, and there's no more glamorous backdrop for speeding or water skiing than Monte Carlo, rising in tiers against the Maritime Alps. Scuba equipment is also available for probing the blue depths of the Azure Coast.

Golfing is another popular diversion in Monaco, thanks to the Monte Carlo Golf Club, which is laid out on the crest of a mountain. Nine holes of this course face inland toward the Sierra, while the other nine face out to sea. Clay pigeon shooting, or "tir au pigeon," is particularly popular in Monaco, where huge cash prizes are offered in tournaments held at least twice yearly.

One of Switzerland's outstanding Alpine golf courses it at Crans Sur Sierre, a fashionable resort in the Valais with eighteen-hole and nine-hole courses. The greens are at an exhilarating 5,000 feet. In addition to hotels, Crans offers a wide selection of villas and cottages for sportsmen interested in longer rentals.

Whatever your sporting passion, Germany has a club to help enjoy it. There are associations for canoeing, rowing, yachting and cycling—just to name a few. Germany is also an ideal place to study sports seriously. There is, for example, a gliding school at Unterwoessen in the Chiemgau, and yachting schools will be found on the Starnberger See, Chiemsee, Schliersee, Walchensee, Tegernsee and Ammersee ("see" means lake).

Austria is a sportsman's paradise, and gliding is one of the unusual possibilities. There are clubs in Zell and Zee and Aigen. Novices may ascend with experienced pilots in two-seater craft that soar in silent beauty. Austria has the world's largest chamois preserve, and the hunt for this sure-footed beast attracts international marksmen. The golf enthusiast will find nine-hole courses in Dellach on the Woerthersee and Pertisau on the Achensee.

Yugoslavia's Alpine area is an unspoiled wonderland for hunter and fisherman. Bohinj, in the Slovenian Alps, is a convenient point of departure for the rifleman in search of chamois, and other demure quadrupeds. Yugoslavia's Alps tumble into the Adriatic Sea, creating one of the world's most scenic, island-dotted coastlines.

'Twelfth Night' Here October 12

The Helen Hayes Repertory Company will present William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" on Monday, October 12 at 8 p.m. at Fort Hill High School auditorium.

The presentation is being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Civic Club.

The company, founded by Helen Hayes and Jack Manning in 1952, is one of the most distinguished repertory companies in the United States, and has performed with success and distinction at the New York City Center, Theater de Lys, Brooklyn Academy of Music, Columbia University, off Broadway at the Washington Square Playhouse and many other colleges and universities.

The company which will perform "Twelfth Night" here includes the featured Broadway players Elizabeth Allen, Richard Herd, Katie Lind, John Carradine Jr., Iggy Wolfington and Gretchen.

"Twelfth Night" is considered to be one of the greatest comedies in the English language.

Mrs. Homer Schadt and Mrs. Conrad Zimmermann are co-chairmen of the presentation and said tickets for the performance may be obtained from any member of the Civic Club.

There will be no reserved seats for the play, but blocks of 10 or more seats will be reserved for groups or organizations. Reservations for these groups may be made by calling Mrs. Schadt at 722-1103, or Mrs. Zimmermann at 722-3027.

The club also plans to sell tickets in the lobby of the Fort Cumberland Hotel starting Monday from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. Tickets also may be obtained at Vandegrift's Music Store on Baltimore Street or the Book Store in Searstown.

The Helen Hayes group is being brought to Cumberland as a project of the ways and means committee of the Civic Club. Mrs. Schadt and Mrs. Edwin Miller serve as co-chairmen and committee members include Mrs. Glenn Kuebler, Mrs. Frank Pharis, Mrs. Patrick Woods, Mrs. Ernest Nimmons and Mrs. Zimmermann.

New European Series Of Road Tours Offered

Driving at leisure through the European countryside during the quiet off-season, dining at charming roadside inns, staying at stately manor houses—all on a fixed-budget package plan — is the program of a new series of Open Road Tours offered in cooperation with Pan American Airways.

The traveler is furnished an automobile, a routing is planned through the scenic areas he chooses, confirmed reservations are made at old chateaux, castles, lakeside retreats and quiet inns that are equipped with modern facilities while retaining their original atmosphere.

Open Road Tours are carefully planned to concentrate on the small towns, avoiding the major cities and concentrations of people and traffic.

Instead of trooping to the standard tourist attractions, the Open Road traveler wanders by himself through small towns and hamlets, visiting grape harvests, wine festivals, slumbering ruins of non-commercialized antiquity; browsing among native art in its natural habitat.

The Great Britain Tour, for example, costs from $704, based on the 21-day air excursion fare. It includes round-trip transportation via Pan Am Jet Clipper between New York and London.

He doesn't linger in London, however, but sets off by car for Salisbury, through the attractive market town of Shaftsbury, to the traditional spa of Bath, through the Cotswald to Stratford, the lake country to Windermere, the ancient Roman settlements to Peeples, by Loch Lomand to Inverness, and the highlands to Edinburgh.

The suggested itinerary for France and Italy begins from $834. Pan Am flies the traveler from New York to Paris at the beginning, from Rome back to New York when he's finished.

In between, the explorer drives along the Loire through Orleans and the chateaux country, through the Burgundy wine section, to Geneva. Skirting the lakes of the Alps, he continues to Grenoble, along the Rhone River through the beautiful vineyards to Avignon, around the Van Gogh country of Provence, by the Roman arenas and equeducts of Nimes, Orles and Pont du Gard.

Details are available from Pan Am authorized travel agents or Pan Am offices.

Ohio Busy With Various Festivals

Ohioans celebrate their bountiful harvests each year with a series of festivals that begin in mid August and continue through October.

Brightly polished apples, jugs of amber cider, apple butter boiling in huge kettles, parades of more than 50 bands, marching units and floats, and the usual carnival equipment are why the town of Jackson attracts more than 50,000 spectators to its annual Apple Festival.

During the year 21 cheese factories in the Swiss settlement in and around Sugarcreek, work like beavers to process enough Swiss cheese for the annual Fall Swiss Festival. Residents of Sugarcreek don Swiss costumes and Swiss musicians are brought in to furnish a continuous program of music and dancing. Swiss games and athletic contests are also featured. During celebration tons of Swiss cheese and trail bologna are purchased by customers who travel as far as a hundred miles for the Festival.

Burton has a series of festivals each year but the one that has a different appeal is the Apple Butter Festival. Burton is endowed with an excellent setting for such festivals. In the center of the village there is a large park densely covered with maple trees among which stands a log building that serves as a sugaring camp during the maple syrup season.

Across the street from the park is a village-type museum composed of an old one-room school house, a general store, blacksmith shop, pioneer barn, and several famous homesteads filled with antiques. In the village green the apple butter kettles are set up along with appliances for making apple fritters and apple syrup. Fresh homemade bread spread with fresh apple butter is a fast selling item. There are no carnival rides or games and the whole show is in keeping with the historic atmosphere of the village. The festival will be held October 12-13.

The granddaddy of all harvest festivals is the Circleville Pumpkin Show which has been held annually for more than half a century. Generally accepted as "The Biggest Free Show on Earth," the Pumpkin Show includes agricultural exhibits which naturally feature tons of pumpkins of all shapes and colors, arts and crafts displays, dozens of free acts, huge parades each night, and countless stands where all of the delicious items derived from pumpkins may be purchased. Some of the gourmets' delights are: pumpkin candy, pumpkin burgers, pumpkin pop, and of course plenty of pumpkin pie. On October 16-19, Circleville residents will again see their streets packed with thousands of fun-loving festival fans.

Trumpeter Of Kracow

The lonely notes of a trumpet in the night keep history alive in the city of Kracow, Poland. The custom is carried on in tribute to the lad who sounded his trumpet to warn the citizens that Turkish invaders were at the gates. The boy, so the story goes, continued to sound the alarm until he was captured and slain by the enemy.

Virginia Group Is Sponsoring Winter Cruise

A 14-day Virginia cruise aboard the S. S. Statendam leaving Norfolk, Va., on January 30, 1965, was announced by the non-profit, civic sponsored Virginia Cruise Corporation.

The S. S. Statendam is the luxurious cruise ship of the Holland-America Line. The Statendam was selected for this cruise "because we have found it one that meets our high standards for food, service, and entertainment," said a spokesman for the organization.

The Virginia cruises have been especially attractive to people in the Middle Atlantic and Southern states because the Gulf Stream and warm balmy weather is a day closer from Norfolk than from other cruise ports to the north. There is also less congestion and expense.

Reservations for this cruise are available through authorized travel agents or Mrs. Katherine Patterson, Virginia Cruise Corporation, 1530 Maritime Tower, Norfolk.

Treat Credit Cards As You Would Cash

American Automobile Association travel experts recommend keeping these points in mind if you use credit cards in your travels:

1. Regard them as cash. Don't carry them loose in your pocket, or leave them lying around in your hotel room while you're out.

2. Each time you use your card, make sure you get it back.

3. Check each charge slip carefully before you sign it, being sure that the total shows in the place set aside for the total.

4. Save your receipts and check your monthly statement carefully. Even in these days of punch cards and "infallible" machines, mistakes occur.

5. Report lost or stolen cards immediately, in writing, to the issuing company. Court decisions concerning responsibility for charges made on lost or stolen credit cards have varied, but have mostly held the card owner responsible, until the issuing company has been formally notified.

State Offering Travel Booklet
